CHARGES NOT DECIDED

"At Least Spirit of Lobby Law" Violated, Attorney General Holds

Madison —(P)—Attorney General John Reynolds announced today that criminal complaints charging attempted bribery or violation of the lobby law will be made in connection with the alleged attempt to bribe Sen. Peter J. Smith, Eau Claire.

The complaints will be issued against the Byllesby Engineering and Management corporation, the Northern States Power company, William J. Hagenah, counsel and vice president of the Byllesby corporation, Paul H. Rahlhe, Chippewa Falls, and Ethan B. Minier, New Richmond. The latter two are former assemblymen.

"I am convinced that they have violated at least the spirit of the lobby law and should be prosecuted," the attorney general said.

The attorney general's action was the first step taken since the senate recommended prosecution of persons believed guilty of attempting a bribe. A special senate committee investigated charges by Gov. Philip LaFollette that an attempt had been made to bribe Sen. Smith in connection with his vote on public utility bills. In the majority report the committee recommended prosecution by the attorney general and the "Dane" district attorney if they

to determine charges.

Attorney General Reynolds said the nature of the complaint to be made against the corporations and individuals will be determined in a day or two.

"I am not in sympathy with the obvious attempt of Byllesby executives to wash their hands of their hivelings when these latter are caught, any more than I am in sympathy with the immunity usually enjoyed by gang chieftains when their hired gunmen are caught," the attorney general said. "Public officials too often are satisfied with the tool for a goat while the big fellows who directed operations escape."

"The Wisconsin lobby law contemplates that the legislature and its members shall not be approached by men posing merely as constituents, or as the representatives of towns or farmers' organizations, when in fact they are being paid by utility corporations. The spirit of the lobby law requires full disclosure by those who present their views publicly or privately to members of the legislature of their entire interest in the matter."

"If the law falls short of accomplishing this purpose, this should be demonstrated at the earliest possible moment and the defect corrected, for a considerable practice exists of secret lobbying similar to that here exposed."

The decision to prosecute was reached yesterday at a conference between the attorney general, Fred Wylie, deputy attorney general and Fred Risser, Dane county district attorney.

The legislative investigation was based on a hotel room conversation in which Rahlhe, an employee of the Northern States Power company, was alleged to have discussed with Senator Smith the possibility of giving the latter as much compensation as is given newly elected legislators under the recent popular vote. Smith is a holdover senator.

Rahlhe admitted at a hearing before the legislative committee utility bills pending in the legislature were also a topic of conversation. He was accompanied on the visit by Minier, also an employee of the Northern States Power company, a Byllesby subsidiary.

The majority legislators committee report, signed by Senators Herman J. Severson, Iola, and Eugene Clifford, Juneau, declared that the conversation constituted an attempt to influence legislation by illegal means. It added that the Byllesby company could not escape responsibility for the act of its employees.

Senator Walter S. Goodland, Racine, chairman of the probing committee, offered a minority report, holding the conversation Rahlhe had with Smith was subject to censure even though there was no thought of bribery. He contended, however, the Byllesby company could in no way be held responsible.

Whole Meal Cookery Is Tomorrow's Subject At Annual Cooking School

WEDNESDAY'S PROGRAM
One Hour Meal
Baked ham slices with pineapple and sweet potatoes
Spinach souffle
Cabbage salad
Brown bread
Graham cracker pudding
Three Hour Meal
Green roast pork
Noodle Mousse
Waterless Cooker Meal
Short ribs of beef with browned potatoes

Whole meal cookery, the subject which Mrs. Opal Neidhamer will present to women at the Appleton Post-Crescent Free Cooking school at tomorrow's session in the high school auditorium, will be an indication that women can prepare a successful meal without having to stay in the kitchen to watch its progress every minute.

Mrs. Neidhamer will prepare a nutritious oven meal in one hour, a three hour meal, and at the same time use the top of the stove for the waterless cooker meal.

About 1,000 women from Outagamie county attended the first session of the tenth annual cooking school which opened at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The high school corridors were crowded with women interested in the various attractive booths displaying modern facilities and beautiful furnishings for the home.

Mrs. Neidhamer is stressing economy in both foods and time in her lectures this week. She has planned a program this year that includes recipes adaptable to the average family and that do not require highly expensive ingredients.

Discusses Breakfasts
Breakfast as the most important meal of the day was discussed this afternoon by Mrs. Neidhamer, who showed women how to prepare a delicious oven meal in twenty minutes, including maple apple rings, little pig sausages and coffee cake.

Mrs. Neidhamer explained the need of breakfast in the home, and explained that it is not necessary to have an elaborate breakfast, but a nutritious one.

"This is the one time in the day that your family is all together," she said. "A good breakfast will not only be nutritious, but it will send the individuals in your family to work or to school in a good humor, and consequently, make them better fitted for their day's work."

"The simplest things are the best things to prepare for breakfast, and oftentimes it is a variation of some type of food that a housewife needs."

In illustration of this Mrs. Neidhamer discussed recipes for baking powder biscuits which can be prepared in several different ways.

Hoover Sees No Increase In Tax Rates

Nothing to Warrant Higher
Adds to Budget

Washington —(P)—President Hoover said today that unless congress increases the budget figures there would be no increase in taxes.

Mr. Hoover said he had canvassed the entire financial situation of the nation through various government agencies and departments and that he saw no necessity for a tax increase. The president said:

"There will be no increase in taxes if the next congress imposes no increases upon the budget or other expenditure proposals which the administration will present. But for congress to do this, the people must cooperate to effectively discourage and postpone consideration of the demands of sectional and group interests."

Senator Watson expressed unalterable opposition to an increase in taxes or a federal bond issue to meet the treasury deficit after a breakfast conference today with President Hoover at the White House.

The Indianapolis, Republican leader of the senate disclosed, his own views to the executive in an hour and a half talk which embraced a field of political and governmental problems.

The two agreed there was no need for an extra session of congress to deal with unemployment and farm relief, and that an armistice in political debate would permit a more rapid economic rehabilitation.

The chairmanship of the Republican national committee also was discussed, but it was agreed, Watson said, that "there is no great rush about reorganization of the committee" now headed by Senator Fess of Ohio.

WRIGLEY TO HELP COTTON FARMERS

Pounds on U. S. Market in 8 Months

Chicago —(P)—William Wrigley, Jr., plans to purchase up to 100,000,000 pounds of cotton on the American market in the next eight months at prices not to exceed 12 cents.

"All remittances from jobs," Mr. Wrigley, the chewing gum manufacturer, announced today, "will be credited to the Wrigley cotton investment fund, and cotton will be purchased for delivery in December, 1931."

"Our object is to purchase up to 100,000,000 pounds of cotton, thus leaving our cash in the south."

The project is similar to Mr. Wrigley's offer last year to aid grain producers by accepting wheat in payment of obligations to his Canadian corporation. From April 1 to December 31, provided cotton does not rise above 12 cents a pound, his company will accept cotton in payment for its products shipped to the south.

Stimson Aid GOVERNOR PUTS SIGNATURE ON GAS TAX BILL

Cashman Highway Measure Effective Tomorrow as Result of Action

Madison —(P)—Gov. Philip LaFollette today signed the Cashman highway bill.

The new law, setting up a 4-cent a gallon gas tax and repealing the personal property tax on automobiles, will go into effect tomorrow.

The chief executive approved the measure shortly after 9 o'clock this morning, using an ordinary desk pen in affixing his signature. Sen. John E. Cashman, Denmark, author of the new highway law, and Assemblyman Henry Ellenbecker, Wausau chairman of the senate and assembly highway committees, respectively, were present when the governor signed the bill.

The bill found a remarkably small amount of opposition in either house of the legislature. In the assembly, the representatives of rural counties changed the measure insofar as the method of distributing state aid for state trunk highways was concerned, but the bill otherwise withstood attempts at drastic amendment.

High Spots of Bill
Some of the outstanding features of the Cashman highway bill are:

1. A 4-cent gasoline tax, present law an increase of 2 cents per gallon.
2. The bill provides for the immediate construction of 60 to 80 grade crossing separations to give approximately 6,000 to 10,000 men. The cost will be $5,000,000 to $6,000,000 and will be shared by railroads paying in two installments which fall due in 1932 and 1933.
3. The personal property tax on motor-vehicles is repealed. In lieu of it, an amount not less than the sum collected as personal property taxes on the 1930 levy will be returned to each town, city and village on Feb. 1 of each year from the license fees collected. This total $3,500,000 annually.
4. Town roads and city streets will receive double the present allotment, or an increase of more than $2,000,000 annually.
5. Federal highway aid and the state money necessary to match this aid, amounting in all to $7,500,000 will be under the control of the highway commission. This is intended to assure the state of a complete system of thorough roads within five or six years.
6. The state is responsible for the maintenance of the state trunk system of more than 10,000 miles. Maintenance will include snow, removal and drift prevention. Maintenance will cost about $5,000,000 annually.
7. The sum of $11,000,000 is allotted as state aid to state and county trunk highways. This is approximately the same amount which counties received under the old law.
8. General property tax reduction is provided as follows: local roads and streets, $2,040,000; personal property tax reduction, $3,500,000; highway bond retirement, $2,440,000; state trunk highway maintenance, $567,000; snow removal, $290,000; county trunk highways $700,000. Total $9,597,000.

According to Senator Cashman, the 4-cent gasoline tax will provide an additional revenue of $4,000,000 in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1932. Records in the highway commission reveal that out-of-state motorists will pay $1,250,000 of this amount. State motorists will pay $3,150,000. Deducting the $2,500,000 personal property tax exemption, the actual increase of Wisconsin motor vehicle owners is estimated at $4,650,000, or equivalent to a 1-cent gas tax revenue.

Kansas City —(P)—Knute Rockne, famous football coach of Notre Dame university, and seven others were killed when a Transcontinental and Western air passenger and mail plane crashed in flames today in a pasture several miles southwest of Bazar, Kas.

The passenger list announced here: Knute Rockne.
J. J. Christensen, Chicago.
J. H. Hooper, 2037 Powell-ave, Chicago.
W. B. Miller, 312 Farmington-ave, Hartford, Conn.
F. Goldthwaite, 333 East 43rd-st, New York.
C. A. Lobrecht, 10 Oak Park, Chicago.

The pilots were Robert Fry and Jess Mathias.

The plane exploded in mid-air and fell to earth in flames, witnesses said.

Edward Baker witnessed the explosion and saw the plane plunge as he was feeding cattle in the pasture a short distance away on the farm of his father, Seward Baker. Baker found five bodies when he reached the plane. He notified an undertaking establishment at Cottonwood Falls. Ambulances rushed to the scene over muddy roads which impeded their progress.

Four of the bodies were identified at the scene of the crash. The bodies identified from cards, billfolds and other personal belongings were those of J. J. Christensen, Chicago; Seward Baker, Alhambra, Calif.; pilot R. G. Fry, and co-pilot H. J. Mathias.

The body of Knute Rockne could not be identified at the place where the flaming plane plunged to death. However, the luggage of one of the passengers contained sports goods and football equipment.

Rockne was enroute to Los Angeles in the interests of the Studebaker Corporation of America. Father Michael Mulcaire, vice president of the Associated Press by telephone of Rockne's death. The news spread like wildfire over the campus at South Bend, Ind.

Mrs. Rockne was expected to return to South Bend after a vacation in Florida.

Although muggy weather made flying hazardous, the 10-passenger Fokker air liner took off here this morning with passengers and a cargo of mail.

Departure, scheduled at 8:30 a. m., was delayed three quarters of an hour, awaiting the mail for the west.

Rockne's presence in Kansas City between planes was not generally known.

South Bend, Ind. —(P)—Thirty-two hundred students at Notre Dame University were held late today when word spread through the campus that their beloved football coach, Knute Kenneth Rockne, had been killed in an airplane crash near Bazar, Kas., while en route to Los Angeles.

The football heroes who played on Rockne's undefeated championship teams of last fall and 1929 broke into tears. "It can't be true," sobbed Marjory Schwartz, who produced some of the most thrilling touchdowns for the fighting Irish last fall.

Word of Rockne's death had a stunning effect on the citizenry of South Bend, where he was intimately known and beloved by every one. Mrs. Rockne was not at home when the word was received, as she was returning from a vacation trip in Florida with two of her children. She had been in Florida since shortly after the holidays and was expected home by telephone from a school in Kansas City. Rockne, who left here yesterday, had intended visiting the youngster when he stopped in Kansas City.

Reports of Rockne's death spread so rapidly that telephonic communication was paralyzed in local newspaper offices and at the university.

First word of the tragedy was received at Notre Dame by the Rev. Michael Mulcaire, vice president of the university, by telephone from the Associated Press in Chicago. The news shocked him almost beyond words. The Rt. Rev. Charles L. O'Donnell, president of Notre Dame, was absent.

Solons Are Tied Up On Budget Bill

Deadlocked Over Fund for Added Employees at State Institutions

Madison —(P)—The senate and assembly today stood deadlocked over the proposal to appropriate $500,000 for additional employees at the state penal and charitable institutions and buildings in which to house them.

The appropriation is contained in an amendment to the executive budget bill which carries total appropriations of more than $45,000,000 for the biennium. Sen. Walter Polakowski, Milwaukee, introduced the amendment which was adopted by the senate. The assembly turned it down. Today the senate refused to recede from its position.

A total of $250,000 would be used for the construction of buildings. The $300,000 balance would pay for additional employees to permit an eight-hour working day. The senate voted 17 to 14 to adhere to its former position on the amendment. A joint assembly and senate committee will now be needed to iron out the difficulties.

OPEN SERIES OF LECTURES ON GARDENING

Approximately 115 Attend
Initial Class at Vocational School

Landscape gardening as influenced by design in nature was the keynote of the first of a series of six lectures given by Dr. Franz Aust of the University of Wisconsin horticulture department at the initial meeting of the landscape gardening class in Appleton vocational school auditorium Monday evening. The class is being sponsored by the Appleton Post-Crescent, University of Wisconsin Extension division, and vocational school.

Approximately 115 persons from Green Bay, Appleton, Kaukauna, Neenah and Hortonville enrolled in the course. Dr. Aust illustrated his lecture with stereoscopic slides. "Art is a mode of living and thinking," Dr. Aust said. "Beauty and art give that lasting satisfaction that has a quality of wearing which almost links it with eternity."

"Getting a thrill when a certain subject is flashed before the eyes, is the first sign of art appreciation. This appreciation is the foundation of all that is artistic in landscape gardening, architectural designing and landscape architecture."

One of Fine Arts "Landscape gardening, which can be classed as one of the fine arts, has these four approaches: Artist's view, philosopher's view, scientist's view, and popular view."

In tracing the art conception of the ancient Greeks and Egyptians, Dr. Aust stated that there are laws for the eyes as there are laws for the ears. The love of beauty today is as innate as it was in ancient days, he declared.

Outlining the modern approaches to the realms of art, he quoted Hegel's definition of art which follows: "Art is the free and adequate embodiment of an idea in a manner peculiarly adapted to the idea itself."

"The basic principles underlying all art are: Unity, harmony, proportion, and that which the mind and reason bring to it—namely, congruity and fitness."

He illustrated these principles with comparative pictures which revealed the beauty and ugliness in the same subjects arranged in different ways.

"Art is always spontaneous and made individually, personality and character of the artist," he said. "There are no laws governing art, and it criticizes attempt to pick it to pieces, there would be nothing left." Dr. Aust explained that his opening lecture was designed primarily for the purpose of giving members of the class a fundamental basis for judging their artistic temperaments while studying the course in landscape gardening. In the remaining classes, he said, he would deal almost entirely with the planning of homes and their surroundings.

MEETING NAMED HEAD-OF-BETTER HOMES MOVEMENT

A. G. Meating, county superintendent of schools, has been asked by Miss Marie C. Kohler, of Kohler, chairman of the Better Homes Movement in Wisconsin, to serve as county better homes chairman. Mr. Meating who has accepted the appointment, plans to start his work at once. Miss Kohler is a sister of former governor Walter J. Kohler.

In her letter to Mr. Meating Miss Kohler mentions the trip to Europe which he is sponsoring and says she thinks the trip is a splendid idea. She wishes the group "God-speed."

Miss Kohler says she thinks that it would be a good idea for every school in the county to put on a better homes program during April 29 to May 2.

SMALL AMOUNT OF CASH STOLEN AT ELK'S CLUB

Burglars forced their way into the Elk's club Monday night or Tuesday morning and stole a small amount of cash. Entrance was gained by forcing the locks on two doors leading from the basement of the building to the club rooms on the first floor. Police believe the burglars hid in the bowling alley and broke into the rooms on the second floor sometime after midnight. This is the second time the club has been entered this year.

It Is Said--

That motorists were particularly considerate of pedestrians' stockings light coats, and spectacles Monday morning as they waded through the accumulated slush and water at intersections. Most drivers slowed up as they passed pedestrians crossing the avenue saving them from a spray of muddy water. However, delivery truck drivers zipped by in their usual reckless fashion.

That shoe clerks were forced to descend to the basement Saturday morning to fill the orders for galoshes brought on by the storm. Unfortunately most stores had already stored their winter supply of rubber footwear.

G. O. P. REGULARS AGAINST BOOST IN TAX RATES

Wood of Indiana and Reed of Pennsylvania Oppose Additional Levies

Washington—(P)—Further federal inroads on the taxpayer's pocket-book today seemed less likely.

Those who propose a tax increase because of the expected $200,000,000 deficit were faced with the opposition of a Republican whose views bears much weight with his party.

Representative Wood, Indiana Republican, was the last to join the discussions. Chairman of the house appropriations committee — which group must pass all government expenditures — he proposed other remedies.

Back from Panama, he said he thought a decrease in appropriations and an already apparent improvement of business ought to solve the situation.

"With the election just ahead I think congress will support this program," he asserted. "In the closely divided congress Democrats will be equally responsible for expenditures."

Wood expressed a belief a tax increase would "hurt business instead of helping it."

"I think that by the time congress gets here business conditions will be very much better than they are today," he said.

Against Farm Board Fund
As one method of pruning government expenses he suggested halting appropriations for the farm board until "it has proved it has done some good."

"I thought the farm board might have some good psychological effect," he said, "but you can't get around the law of supply and demand. The farm board was a flash in the pan; the equalization fee has no virtue and the debenture scheme is worse."

Another Republican regular—Senator Reed of Pennsylvania—has opposed a tax raise. He advocated stopping "handouts to soldiers and farmers" and was assailed by Senator Norbeck, independent Republican of South Dakota, for suggesting the farm board be abolished. Norbeck did not mention taxes, but Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, has said he looked with disfavor on increased levy proposals.

On the other side of the fence were at least four independent Republicans; Senators Norris of Nebraska, and Borah of Idaho, and Representative LaGuardia of New York, and Fear of Wisconsin. Senator Hull of Tennessee, and Representative Collier of Mississippi, Democrats, said some readjustment

ISSUING OF 40,000 PERMITS COSTS $30,000

Madison—(P)—A county having 40,000 motor vehicles would pay at least $30,000 annually for the privilege of issuing licenses, according to a survey conducted by Prof. Ray Owen of the school of engineering, University of Wisconsin.

The proposal to put auto registration work in the hands of the county clerks rather than under the

in the higher brackets probably would be necessary.

Financial observers clung to the opinion that the deficit could better be raised through a long-term bond issue.

retary of state will be voted on in a state-wide referendum April 7.

Prof. Owen's statistics show that a county with 40,000 vehicles would need a permanent staff of 12 clerks to keep records and care for applicants. In addition, equipment similar to that now used in Madison would be necessary.

Opponents of the plan to decentralize the auto license bureau point out that automobile owners have a good protection against theft under the present arrangement. About 80,000 active reports on motor vehicle thefts throughout the United States are on file with the secretary of state which can be referred to in event of theft.

Thirty-four states distribute licenses from a central office and only one of the other 14 has a greater number of motor vehicles than Wisconsin.

The Oklahoma state health department has started an inoculation campaign to eliminate diphtheria from the state by 1932.

INVESTOR MUST CHOOSE BETWEEN BONDS AND STOCKS

Other Things Being Equal, Expert Says Bonds Are Best Investment

(This is the seventh of a series of articles discussing the application of investment principles to present day conditions in business and in securities.)

BY GEORGE T. HUGHES

(Copyright, 1931, by Cons. Press)

New York—Returning to the subject of the status of high grade securities under present conditions the question arises whether the investor should take bonds or preferred stocks.

Other things being equal the bond is the more conservative holding but there are preferred issues which for all practical purposes are just as safe as bonds, for instance U. S. steel Preferred. The late Judge Gary once said that the greatest financial calamity he could imagine would be for the Steel Corporation to omit the dividend on Steel Preferred. In the 30 years' history of that great organization that great organization the preferred dividend has been paid on time without exception.

Still, bonds have their advantages. They can be bought and sold without loss of interest. When a bond is purchased between the dates on which the coupons fall due the buyers pays interest to the day of the purchase and when he sells he receives interest to the day of the sale. A bondholder is a creditor whereas the stockholder, although he may be a preferred stockholder, is a partner, assuming the risk of the business. In the case of the U. S. Steel Preferred that risk is negligible, but with preferred stocks as a class the risk in greater or less degree is always there.

If the bonds are selected the choice may fall to Government issues, to obligations of railroads, to those public utilities, or to those of industrial companies. Of course the United States Government bonds are the highest grade of investment to be had anywhere, but their price is corresponding high and the yield is below 4 per cent and for the short term obligation below 3 per cent. The buyers nowadays are chiefly financial institutions who must have securities immediately marketable. It is hardly necessary for the small individual investor to be so ultra-cautious. Probably his best recourse, all things considered, is to take the mortgage obligations of the public utility operating companies.

SAFE HYDROGEN

Akron—Hydrogen, the explosive gas used in airships, can be safely used with helium, the non-explosive gas, by a plan developed by Dr. Karl Arnstein, former engineer of the German Zeppelin works, and now chief of the Goodyear Zeppelin Corporation, building the two huge ships for the U. S. Navy. His plan is to surround a small envelope containing hydrogen with a larger one containing helium.

An Open Letter to Mr. Firestone

Whose "Mail Order" Tire Are You Talking About?

Dear Mr. Firestone:

Above, we reproduce part of one of the many newspaper and magazine advertisements appearing throughout the country, in which Firestone tires are compared with "a mail order" tire . . . Montgomery Ward & Co. is the oldest mail order house in America. So when you say "mail order," many people naturally think first of Montgomery Ward & Co.

But — the specifications of the "mail order" tire listed in Firestone advertising fall far short of the specifications of Montgomery Ward & Co. tires. . . . You have also stated in your advertising that "a mail order tire is made by some unknown manufacturer . . ." Well, Ward's tires are made by one of the largest and best known rubber companies in America . . . a company, in fact, that is larger than your own company, Mr. Firestone. . . . Furthermore, your advertising says "Compare prices." You compare Firestone prices with "mail order" prices. Montgomery Ward & Co. states emphatically that your advertising does NOT make a correct comparison between Ward tires and yours, in either quality or price. But the table at the left DOES.

The Firestone advertising lists three grades of tires—Courier, Oldfield and Super-Heavy Anchor. Your Courier, Mr. Firestone, is what is known in the trade as a "third line" tire. Montgomery Ward & Co. does not sell a "third line" tire. Your Oldfield is what is known as a "second line" tire—it compares in quality with our TRAIL BLAZER. The table at the left shows how Trail Blazer prices compare with Oldfield prices. Your Super-Heavy Anchor is also a "second line" tire—but is a quality which we do not sell . . . OUR BEST TIRE IS OUR RIVERSIDE. The Firestone advertising does not list a tire equal in quality to our Riverside—in the table at the left however, we list Firestone tires that are equal in quality to our Riversides and show ALSO how the prices compare.

In view of these facts, Mr. Firestone, we ask that in the future you state whose mail order tire you are talking about.

MONTGOMERY WARD & CO.

Mr. Auto Owner
Montgomery Ward & Co. guarantees you that quality for quality, there are no better tires made than Ward's Riversides and Trail Blazers. Furthermore, they are backed by the fairest, squarest tire guarantee ever written. And they sell for LESS than other tires of equal quality. Step into Ward's store where you will find a complete stock of Riversides and Trail Blazers and see for yourself. COMPARE before you buy.
Ward's Always Sells for Less

BURKE AND THE DEATH PENALTY

Fred Burke, leading killer, was quite apprehensive when taken into custody, that his captors were enemy gangsters who planned to "take him for a ride," and expressed relief when he found that he was in the hands of the law. Fear of death was in his heart, but he now feels that while in the custody of the representatives of the law he has a chance to evade the just punishment for the assassinations in which he has figured.

His demeanor is an admission that murderers fear capital punishment, for after recovering from his first shock, he boastfully stated that he was unafraid to go back to Chicago. The evidence against him there is not conclusive and he knows Chicago's record for ineffectiveness in the conviction of gangsters. He probably feels he would be safer there than in many other states.

If ever a man deserved capital punishment, Burke does. He has killed with intent and without compunction. Many states want him for crimes committed, but Michigan apparently has a clean cut case against him for the murder of Officer Skelly of St. Joseph.

Michigan has had no capital punishment law for many years, but the legislature has recently passed a law subject to the approval of the voters at the April election. The advisability of capital punishment is a difficult question to solve. Debating societies have fought over the wisdom of the death penalty since time immemorial, but they have been unable to rob the subject of its freshness and immediate timeliness.

There are only eight states which do not provide the theoretical penalty of execution for murder. Lewis E. Lawes, warden of Sing Sing prison, has said that if one-half of the ten thousand persons guilty of homicide in a year in this country were executed, the people would rise in horror and demand the abolition of capital punishment. Technically Mr. Lawes may be right, for the word "homicide" covers many different kinds of killings, but when the murder is deliberate, or incidental to robbery most people will conclude that executing even half of the murderers for one year would materially lessen the number of murders.

BROTHER JOSEPH

A great unselfish life went out when Ira Dutton, known the world over as Brother Joseph, died near Molokai, the leper colony at which he had been keeper and self-imposed prisoner forty-four years.

A soldier in the Thirtieth Wisconsin Regiment in the Civil war, Dutton at its conclusion slipped backward into a loose life, and like so many who have gone to the depths and found the wastrel's existence worthless, shot like a brilliant star to the very heights of human service.

He picked not alone the humble and the lowly to serve but selected the most loathsome and despised outcasts, the "unclean" and degraded the world over as far back as written records go. With these he deliberately cast his lot and to their shrunken, diseased arms he gave the glorious assistance that comes from a heart unswayed by any thought but to extend relief to the stricken.

At 83 years of age he wrote: "Not much time in the day, three nights until 2:30, 1:20 and now 12:40 and every morning up at 4:30, but a nap after lunch," and all those years on a slip of land in mid-Pacific among people rotting in body and mind, with the purpose only of easing the distress of some of God's creatures.

His life has been a magnificent rendition of that divine faith that goes back to Bethlehem.

LOTTERIES

A resident of Buffalo, New York has suddenly come into a fortune of over $800,000 by holding a lucky ticket in the Irish Hospital sweepstakes, a lottery run in connection with the Grand National steeplechase held at Liverpool, England. This brings forcibly to the public's attention that, regardless of stringent national and state laws in this country against lotteries of all kinds, a great amount of money is lost each year in the United States by people who purchase tickets in many and various sorts of lottery schemes with the hope of winning substantial fortunes.

The last great lottery legally conducted in this country was the Louisiana. This was organized in 1868 shortly after the Civil war when the carpet baggers were thriving throughout the south, and was legalized by the state of Louisiana which participated in a small way in its earnings. While it lasted it was the greatest gambling game in the history of the United States. It made millions of dollars for its promoters, and small fortunes overnight for some thousands of lucky little fellows. It became the gambler's hunch and the washerwoman's dream. In the last quarter of the last century it was an institution in which almost every other man was interested.

But it became a menace to the whole country. A few might win but it also ground down monthly thousands of good men and women into the dust of adversity and spread ruin through countless homes. Shrewd advertising of winners played upon the weakness of human nature which thrills to the lure of fortune and the romance of big prizes won by obscure men and women here and there throughout the country, and the victims came in by the hundreds of thousands. Congress, in 1903, passed a law making it illegal and denied it the use of the mails.

Certain lotteries which are legal in other countries obtain every year a large distribution of their tickets in this country through underground channels. Other forms of lotteries such as baseball and football pools, raffles, punch-boards, etc., are operated in a more or less open manner, although in violation of most state laws, yet are permitted probably because their harm is small.

There are many schemes devised to evade the lottery laws. It has been commonly supposed that "giving" a chance to one who has bought goods or an admission ticket to a place of entertainment, etc. saves a prize drawing from being unlawful. Yet any scheme which involves the three elements of a prize, an award by chance, and the payment of something directly or indirectly for the chance has been generally declared by the courts to be illegal, howsoever dressed.

THE SMALL LOANS ACT

And now we find the Wisconsin Federation of Labor, along with Senator Hall and a few others, fighting for the Small Loans Act, although they are trying to accomplish the very sensible thing of paring the interest rate down as far as it will go without destroying the act itself.

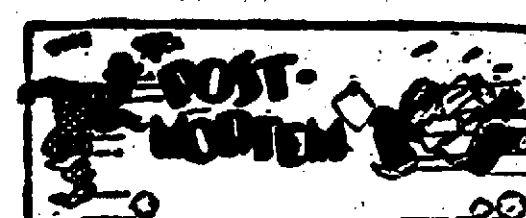

Thus labor has been brought face to face with the utterly impractical workings of the political mind, with its intolerance and unhelpfulness when it envisions an idea having nothing to do with the needs or necessities of others but which it believes will tend to make effective platform declamations.

Labor realizes that while $3.50 is a high rate per month to pay for the use of $100.00, yet if the hundred is not repaid it takes nearly thirty other similar interest payments to make up the loss. And in the realization of the difficulty of talking practical sense to a purely political mind, labor may come to realize more fully the havoc that such ideas may have upon business institutions.

Opinions of Others

MENTAL CRUELTY

A Chicago woman sued her husband for a divorce. He filed a cross-complaint in which he alleged that he was treated in a cruel and inhuman manner. The woman, who was a nurse, testified that she was treated with great cruelty and that she was forced to live with her mother-in-law, much against her will; that such acts, repeated over a considerable period, caused her great mental anguish, and that she suffered a nervous breakdown. There was a time when physical violence had to be proved to sustain such an allegation of inhuman treatment, but courts are holding now that too much conversation may constitute cruelty, and also that refusal to talk may be as cruel. The law has swung around to a consideration of the mind as well as the body, and while the Chicago case remains to be tried, it is not at all improbable that if this man can convince the court that his mother-in-law caused him to become a nervous wreck, the contention that he was the victim of extreme cruelty will be sustained.—Indianapolis News.

Wherein We Lose Our Identity as a Radio Expert

Red, captain of the football crew, took us to task yesterday. It seems that we told our public the other day about the swell tunes that George Olson and his music were pouring out from WLW every night from half past eleven to twelve. Well, it develops that George had his hour changed the same day we made our remark. Which makes us a fool. But he's on sometime during the evening and your guess is as helpful as ours.

Just Folks

By Edgar A. Guest

A WISH
I don't want to go back to the joys of old which are dead and past and gone;
I am grateful for all my yesterdays, but I want to keep moving on.

Though I once was young and once was strong,
These gifts have flown away,
And ask the Lord for the sort of grace that I ought to have today.

I want to be fit for the friends of now, as I was for my playmates then.
I want to be gay as a man should be and stand as man with men.

It is vain to sigh for the vanished joys which never again can be,
So I ask for the wisdom and faith from grace which today expects from me.

I don't want to sit with a doleful face, regretting the pleasures lost.
I don't want to wither and hang my head like a dahlia nipped by the frost;
I want to go on with my head up high, and a cheery word to say.

And be as brave and as blithe of heart as I ought to be today.

Personal Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author

CHILDREN SHOULD HAVE A REASON FOR A RULE AS WELL AS SYRUP ON PANCAKES

One doctor, quoted by a commercial interest as a great health authority, said recently in a published article on children's diet that young children must never be allowed to eat anything fried. That was his advice, he said—and one supposes parents or others responsible for the care of children may take it or leave it. The great health authority did not deem it necessary to explain why he gives such advice, or what his objection to fried foods may be. I fancy he would soon get into a muddle if he attempted to explain.

An article, talk sponsored by the New York State Health department, Dr. Sangar Brown, Second, of the state department of mental hygiene—whatever that may be—said that "children of school age should always receive explanations as to why certain conduct is necessary of this age he asked to do something, the reasons for which they do not understand."

One need not know anything about mental hygiene to recognize the common sense of Dr. Brown's remark. But I suppose it is necessary to be something of a psychologist in order to inquire why children of school age, any more than any one else, should have rules, explained to them. It is rather silly, isn't it, to say that a child or an adult must do this or must not do that, if there is no reason you can give for the command or the prohibition.

There may be a clue to the mystery of "mental hygiene" in the official name of the state government mental department, for which Dr. Brown—works. It is now called the Department of Mental Hygiene. It was formerly otherwise designated, but that was before the lunacy and health affairs of the state were turned over to club women and society leaders who have tired of bridge and literature. This minding "mental hygiene" department still has charge of the state hospitals for the insane and institutions for feeble-minded and epileptic persons. Obviously such cases make an interesting study for the Ladies' Literary Guild, and our New York politicians are nothing if not nice to the ladies.

Still, reader, you may ask what has mental hygiene to do with fried food. And I admit not a thing. But common sense has something to do with it, and I now give you the common sense of the fried food question. So far as to know scientifically or otherwise, food cooked by frying is the kid's taste is quite as wholesome, digestible and nutritious as it is cooked any other way.

If the "national health authority" (he became an "international" authority after I had snickered at his insular fame and compared it with my own "world renown") if the great pool-bath undertakes to controvert this bit of common sense he will make an international fool of himself. The prejudice against fried food was just one of those funny notions some of the old timers had—the old timers who were famous for laying down rules without reasons.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Resuscitation of a Horse Fly
When I was a kid I took an ordinary horse fly, held it submerged in water several minutes and then buried it in salt, and after a couple of minutes it came back to life. I have tried this with cockroaches and beetles and they revive as readily. I may be foolish, but I just wondered if this might work in the case of a drowned person that could be restored by no other methods (D. B. E.)

Answer—Nothing foolish about it. On the contrary, it is commendable to indulge in such thinking of food. In some such way Banting was led to his great discovery of insulin. I don't know, but I suspect the insects may be harder to drown than is man. You should always conduct a control test or experiment along with your primary one—that is, subject similar insects to the same submersion, but not the same treatment afterward, and see whether they revive. The lack of proper controls leads to many wrong conclusions.

Removing the Stifle
I am a young man quite intelligent but I have stuttered and stammered more or less for the past seven years. The Institute at wrote me that my case could be cured in six weeks and it would cost me the sum of $500. Would you advise.... (H. M.)

Answer—No. In the larger cities there are free clinics, or part-pay clinics, where stuttering and stammering are properly treated. In many cities there are special classes conducted either in day school or night school for the benefit of those with such speech impediment, and you can attend these classes at little or no expense. Finally, a course of vocal lessons under a good music or elocution instructor will do more good than the so-called institutes or other mail-order rackets can do. Send stamped envelope bearing your address, mention your trouble, and ask for special instructions for help. Vocal exercises you can follow at home. No advice unless you say you stutter or stammer.

The Kids Like Old Doc Brady's Medicine

Your paper on the group has been very valuable to me. Your foolproof cough medicine always helps our children. They like it better than any medicine we have ever gotten from any doctor. (Mrs. G. S.)

Answer—Considering all the harm done by popular cough medicine, foolproof is right. Glad to send the instructions for making and giving the medicine, on request, with a, a, e.

The Tynmites

By Hal Cochran

THE Tines left the elephant fight and Scoury said, "That was a sight that thrilled me more than anything that I have ever seen. The two big beasts were mighty strong, but in the jungle they belong. To make them put on fight like that, I think is rather mean."

"Oh well," replied the Travel Man, as to the court the whole bunch ran, "the natives must have shows and such to pass the time away. The elephant don't seem to mind and they are always treated kind. I guess, to them, the so-called fights are just a lot of play."

To Delhi they then jostled back along a muddy, winding track and then the Travel Man said, "Boys, I'm going to sell our truck. We'll find some other way to go along our trip. The truck's too slow. And, if we'd hit a real bad road the big thing might get stuck."

And so, while he was doing that, the Tines in a cool spot sat and watched the natives saunter by. Said Clowry, "This is fun! I love to loaf beneath the trees and just watch other folks at ease." And then they spied the Travel Man, and joined him, on the run.

"Well, I have sold our truck," said he, "and now you kids as follow me. Soon Scoury heard a funny sound. 'Gee, what is that he cried. 'A man is blowing on a flute,' said Cappy. 'My, just hear him toot!'"

"And he's an old snake charmer," Mister Travel Man replied. "The music that he plays so well puts all the snakes into a spell. He makes them hold their heads up high. You needn't be afraid." And so the Tines watched in awe. It was as thrilling as could be. Soon Cappy said, "We're thankful for the music you have played."

A Bystander In Washington

BY HERBERT PLUMMER

Washington — When the news was flashed up from Panama that Lt. Gen. Edgar Jadwin was dead, the army was not the only branch of Washington officialdom that mourned.

For that pleasant, bespectacled, mild and unassuming man—former chief of army engineers—had projected his personality far beyond the branch of the service with which he was identified.

Until his retirement some months ago General Jadwin was a familiar figure in the capital. Senators, representatives and others high in the councils of the government knew well that small, unpretentious office at the far end of the munitions building where he worked as chief of army engineers.

And General Jadwin could be found there almost any time, smoking his favorite briar and studying the vast array of maps and charts that cluttered his desk. Past 60 years of age then, he never looked his age. He carried lightly his reputation as one of the world's greatest authorities on flood-control and waterways.

Pride In Work

He apparently loved nothing better than opportunity to talk about the subject. To the most ignorant layman he would as patiently explain his maps and charts as to a brother engineer.

One could see at a glance that he had a deep-rooted and sincere faith in his profession. I recall a visit with him shortly after he had returned from an extensive tour of the Mississippi valley following the disastrous flood of 1927. Informally he told of some of the things he encountered on the trip. This story remains in my memory:

One day he stopped at a small flood-ravaged town on the Mississippi. A resident who had suffered greatly and lost much approached him as he and his party stood looking out upon a levee that was being assaulted by high water.

"General," he said, "do you think even your engineers can harness that river?"

"Turning to him, the General's reply was in five words: "They built the Panama canal."

First Success
And it was with this sort of determination that he plunged into the problem of finding a solution of what has been described as the world's greatest engineering problem.

It is for the most part the Jadwin plan that the government is following in its effort to curb the Mississippi.

Although he had a noteworthy record of achievements, those who knew him best say that the first job he successfully executed perhaps gave him the most personal satisfaction.

It was just after he graduated

COUNTY EXPENSES

Editor Post-Crescent — In the March 26th issue of The Post-Crescent a Medina man calls attention to some of Outagamie County's unnecessary expenditures. Those who will read the county board proceedings published in the Post-Crescent will perhaps wonder further what all these additional "expenses" are of those high salaried officials paid by our now overburdened taxpayers. But our county board is generous—with the people's money—much of which is borrowed this year. Look over the county board proceedings. It costs the county quite a neat sum to have those records published. And we're wondering if all that transpires in the "secret session" will come out in the report.

Some are wondering how much the county superintendent will pry out of the county board's purse for the "emergency fund" for that trip to Europe. He got a hundred from the county last year to enhance the pleasure trip to Washington, D. C. Well, look over the county board proceedings and see what's been done with your tax money which your bank wouldn't loan you and you had to sell something, at a discount) to make up your taxes. Look over the proceedings.

IMPORTANT ELECTION

Editor of the Post-Crescent—This coming spring election is one of the most important in the history of Outagamie county. It is a grave situation with the appropriations and donations for road schools, a new court house and farming institutions. We farmers don't want such trash. We don't need to be taught how to farm, we have young graduate farmers who have forgotten more than these institutes ever knew. If we can elect the right men with a little common sense we can, with their influence, wipe the institutes off the map.

They are a burden to the taxpayer. Assemblyman Miller tried to stir up the institutes but didn't have the right support.

As for building a new courthouse, I think it would be wise to build a temporary vault for a few hundred dollars in which to keep the county valuables until the county is better financed. It's time to start housecleaning and the place is to start at home. We will start cleaning up the court house by cutting the salaries in two. There is no high cost of living on the part of the farmers. They aren't getting anything from their produce to live on and are tax burdened to death. It is time for the voters to wake up.

BUNSEN'S BIRTH

On March 31, 1811, Robert W. Bunsen, a distinguished German chemist, was born at Göttingen.

Bunsen's discoveries have formed important contributions to the progress of science in the latter part of the 19th century. He was the first to produce magnesium in large quantities. In 1860, he invented the magnesium light, important in photography. His greatest discovery was that of spectrum analysis, made in conjunction with Kirchhoff. This led to the discovery of important alkali metals.

Bunsen will always be remembered by physicists and chemists for the much used gas burner which bears his name. The principle of the Bunsen burner is now widely utilized in gas stoves for cooking purposes. He also made valuable discoveries in organic chemistry and invented the ice calorimeter, a filter pump and other useful apparatus.

from West Point in 1890. He was assigned to his first harbor improvement project—to triple the size of Ellis Island for immigration purposes.

Within a short time after he tackled the task the work was completed. He had dredged a channel to the island, built a crib around three sides of it, filled the interior and created a strip of land three times its original size.

It was his success with this project that gave him a start on the road to a worldwide reputation as an engineer.

SECOND STORM SWEEPS ACROSS MOUNTAIN AREA

Another Expected to Come from Northwest—Heavy Livestock Losses

Kansas City —(P)—The second snowstorm in a week over the Rocky mountain area and the adjoining prairie states appeared to be dissipating today, but forecasts indicated another was due to rear out of the northwest.

While snow continued to fall in sections of Oklahoma and Kansas, stockmen in Montana and Wyoming were warned by the United States Weather bureau against renewal of the storm. Elsewhere in the region, with the exception of Colorado and New Mexico unsettled weather and rain was predicted.

The Oklahoma panhandle was covered with nearly 13 inches of snow which was drifting. Clogged highways and disrupted communication lines threatened further losses to stock through starvation and exposure. In Central Oklahoma snow was melting as it fell.

Many communities in western Kansas, where snow fell yesterday, continued in virtual isolation. Hill city, entered its fifth consecutive day without train service. Main highways were open in other sections, but side roads continued impassable.

Scattered reports of livestock losses continued to filter in. Tullahoma and commission men estimated the loss would reach several thousand head. Preparations were being made to ship the carcasses to rendering plants here and at Hutchinson. The Santa Fe reported the probable loading of 700 at Syracuse, Kas.

One death, attributed to the storm, was that of A. L. Leonard, whose body was found yesterday in the Cuny Table district of the South Dakota Bad Lands. Sixteen deaths had been previously reported.

Temperatures continued normal here, but the mercury fell below the zero mark in Oklahoma.

3 HELD AS SUSPECTS IN SLAYING OF GUARD

Memphis, Tenn.—(P)—Three alleged gangsters of East St. Louis, Ill., are being held here for investigation in connection with the shooting of a guard during a payroll robbery at Proctor, Minn., in 1929. Memphis police have been requested to hold the three men for the sheriff of St. Louis-co, Minnesota.

The men, all of whom carried guns when they were arrested here Thursday, gave their names as Charles Dove Harley Grizzell and George Reily.

A witness to the Proctor shooting and robbery, who now lives at Greenwood, Miss., partially identified newspaper photographs of the trio, police said.

ADVANCES IN LONDON WOOL TO HELP STATE

Madison —(P)—Advances in the wool market in London should strengthen the Wisconsin Wool market, William F. Benk, commissioner of the state department of agriculture and markets, said today. The commissioner also said further meetings will be held in conjunction with the state-wide campaign to increase membership in the Wisconsin wool pool. A "round up" meeting will be held in Fond du Lac April 6 after sectional meetings in Sawyer and Price counties this week.

Carl Wenzlaff

Carl Wenzlaff, advertising director and compositor finds real sport in piloting a speedy motor boat, racing in a streak of red across a wind swept lake, feeling the breeze beat in spray against his face. Mr. Wenzlaff is a member of the Appleton Yacht club, holding the position of secretary and treasurer of the organization.

Mr. Wenzlaff has one of the most important jobs in the "ad alley," that of making final corrections on advertisements. He picks the minute mistakes of transposed letters, misplaced punctuation, and such details out of the type matter with a tweezers, replacing them with the correct type to make the advertisement typographically perfect before it goes to press. Besides this work, Mr. Wenzlaff "locks up" all the pages just before they go to press. This means that the wide, metal frame, bordering the page of type is tightened at the corners to squeeze the type together as much as possible in order to maintain an even tension and to insure good printing. Mr. Wenzlaff also sets up advertising with the same skill that he uses in correcting it.

When he came to the Post-Crescent in 1921, Mr. Wenzlaff spent his first year running errands. For the next two and a half years he fitted headlines to news stories on the "bank", and corrected mistakes.

This was followed by his work in the composition of advertising, until he was given charge of the advertising correction and page lock-up four years ago.

Mr. Wenzlaff was born in Appleton, attending school here. He went to the Fifth Ward school for three years, finishing grade school at Zion Lutheran, from which he graduated in 1921. He attended vocational school for four years. He lives with his mother, Mrs. Minnie Wenzlaff, 1015 W. Packard-st.

In addition to his interest in motor-boating, Mr. Wenzlaff enjoys golf and fishing.

SLAYING LAID TO VENGEANCE OF GANGSTERS

Two Assassinate Man While He Pauses to Buy Newspaper in Chicago

Chicago—(P)—While throngs of homeward bound showgoers from the Riviera and Uptown theatres were passing, two men walked up behind Max Tendler, 42, as he stood buying a newspaper and shot him to death late last night. The killers escaped in an automobile after firing five shots into the victim's body.

Tendler was arrested at the Metropole hotel with Marie Gibbons and John Baldwin last Jan. 14, the police reporting they found narcotics in their possession worth $2,000, and their investigation of the killing was being made on the theory that it was the result of a drug peddling affair.

Reports were circulated that Tendler had been an informer for the New York police and that he had been instrumental in connection with the conviction of Police Lieutenant Becker, Lefty Louis and "Gyp the Blood" for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, New York Gambler, but the New York authorities reported they did not recall him.

The Chicago police also said they had information indicating Tendler had been a member of a kidnapping ring that had collected large sums from gamblers and saloonkeepers. His hearing on the narcotic charge had been set for April 17.

A boy gave the police the number of the automobile the killers used in making their escape but officials were working on the theory that the machine had been stolen.

Auxiliary Of Legion Gets 333 Members

APPLETON unit of the American Legion Auxiliary has enrolled 333 members since the beginning of the state membership drive, the deadline of which has been set for April 4. This is the largest number in the history of the local unit. The Wisconsin quota is 20,000, and at the last report the state was 2,300 members short of this goal.

Telegraphic roll call will be held on April 6, and those who have attained their quota will be put on the national honor roll.

Units all over the state have been issued a call for musical instruments for the soldiers at Rest Haven Hospital, Waukesha. Anyone having any kind of musical instrument which they do not need are asked to communicate with Mrs. Harold W. Miller. If the instruments are in need of repair, the soldiers will do the work themselves.

The daughter of an ex-service man, who suffered an injury to her eye some time ago and whom the Auxiliary has decided to help has been receiving treatment to prepare her for an operation on the eye to restore the sight. Her tonsils and adenoids were removed and her general condition is being built up.

Miss Carrie Morgan entertained the Clio club Monday evening at her home, 100 N. Green Bay-st. Mrs. J. R. Denyes presented the program on Cook and Belfast, and 16 members were present. Supper will be served at 6 o'clock, next Monday night at the home of Mrs. James Wood, E. Washington-st., after which Mrs. A. E. Rector will have charge of the program on Ireland. Need Better Supervision Of Bad Child

BY ANGELO PATRI

All this week my former friend Michael, has been in the cellar sorting things. I found him in the potato bin picking over a big pile of potatoes.

"What in the world, Michael?"

"Well, what in the world yourself? Did you never see anybody pick over the potatoes before?"

"No. Where I come from there are no potatoes."

"That's too bad. Must be hard to get along without them. Now there's nothing I like better than a good potato well baked. Some folks don't know how to bake them. Hetty does them to a turn. Pick a nice smooth one, wash it, score it and set it in the oven to bake for about three-quarters of an hour. Then crack it wide open, slip in about the size of a nutmeg of fresh butter—and say, the king on his throne has nothing to equal it."

All this time, the brown potatoes were passing through Michael's hands. He rubbed each one with a round and round motion, laid it aside in a new pile. Now and then he tossed one into a tub at his side.

"Got to pick out the bad ones. Let one stay in the pile and it soon spoils a lot of them. Pick out the spoiled one and you save a heap. It's a bit of trouble, but then, what isn't?"

Just for practice I sat on an up-turned tub and helped sort the pile and as I rubbed potatoes and sorted them, I thought of the children who needed picking over every now and then so that the spoiled one should not affect the others.

There are a few children in every group that are so constituted as to make their presence in a group undesirable if not dangerous. It is not right to force the teacher to keep them in the room with the other children. They waste the teacher's time and energy they slow up the class, they catch the imagination of a few of the weaker children and influence them to their hurt. Last and not the least in importance, they are unhappy, disturbed mentally and for their own sakes, their own comfort, ought to be taken out of the group.

We have special classes, but they do not go far enough. We have special schools but they do not go far enough. Reform schools, we have them too, but need better equipment, better support, than they get now if they are to function as they must to remove the spoiled potatoes.

The educational forces of the country must be strengthened, enlightened, supported by public opinion and public funds if the affected children are to be put in safe places, held in safety until such time as their condition warrants their release.

Jails should be schools, hospitals, curative and preventive institutions as well as custodial institutions. Only a scant few of the failures are beyond help. The great group can benefit by care and training. If the custodial institutions were better motivated, equipped and manned, the schools could be relieved of the spoiled potatoes and the rest of the group immeasurably benefited. (Copyright, 1931, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

The Story of Sue

by MARGERY HALE
© 1929 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

"I isn't any of your business!" Barbara's words hung in the courtroom as though she had tacked them in the air. The spectators leaned forward. The jury grew more wide awake.

"I'm sorry, Miss Andrews, but I'm afraid it is your business," Sue said. "Jack's tones were cool, courteous, yet a little gentle as though he were dealing with a child who couldn't understand. 'At what time did Sybil Lester come to your party?'"

"Well, I told you last night, so I suppose I might as well say the same thing." The lifting voice had found its old accustomed channel. "She didn't come until rather late. Now, does that satisfy you? It's so ridiculous to implicate Sybil Lester of all people. She..."

"Will you please confine yourself to answering my questions?" Jack interrupted, some of his patience gone.

"Certainly." The violet eyes snapped with purple fire. "What else do you want to know? Only... Sybil doesn't come from the type of people who are accustomed to being accused of this sort of thing."

Sue felt the quick, sure color flood her face; heard the angry intake of Corinne's breath; saw Harry Becker clench his hands; caught the sudden sternness in Jack's face.

"And neither is my client, Miss Andrews. You are excused now!" Jack retorted.

"May I retain the witness, please?" I have a few questions I'd like to ask," Judge Thornton arose as Jack finished.

"Certainly, sir," Jack murmured the words, while the bench nodded.

"Then, Miss Andrews, just what did you mean when you said that you had told the lawyer for the defense, last night, that Miss Lester arrived rather late at the party?"

Sue was aware of the sudden widening of the purple eyes, and the slow smile of the cherry-red mouth. Barbara was going to shoot some more barbs.

"Certainly, I'll answer, Judge Thornton. Last night Jack dropped in to... ostensibly to borrow a book. The cook was ill and I was home alone, so he took me down town to dinner. You know, once upon a time we were engaged and I thought maybe he just wanted to see me again. And I was telling him about the party. Miss Merryman was in the same dining room and she left when we came in. I guess she didn't like it very well, but honestly, Judge Thornton..."

"Will the witness please confine her remarks to questions asked by the examining lawyer?" The judge was getting tired of the by-play.

Sue glanced at Jack, just as his eyes met hers and he smiled. A boyish, flashing grin that seemed to tell her that everything was all right. Then his mind was on the case again and his eyes were impersonal as they surveyed the jury.

Barbara was dismissed, Jim Redding was brought in and he told a story that was uninteresting.

"It wasn't hard to take the money and blame Merryman. I could take it sometimes and Sybil Lester could sometimes. I removed the key from the ring that morning it was missing. Sybil had had a duplicate made and that was the one that was found sticking in the money bags. She was working on the bags trying to get them open late Saturday night, when she was working overtime. She heard someone coming, closed the vault and left the key. Monday morning, when the key to these bags was missing from the ring and one like it was found in the bags themselves, of course everybody thought Merryman had taken it and tried to break in. He couldn't return it since it was stuck in the bag. But..."

MY NEIGHBOR Says—

Dried beans and peas make very good purées, but care must be taken to soak and boil them for a sufficiently long time. When they have boiled until they are very tender mash them through a sieve. Place them in the saucepan and stir into them enough hot milk, pepper and salt to season them, add butter and a little sugar before serving.

TRY NEW COLORS IN FACE POWDER THIS SPRING

BY ALICIA HART

Have you seen the delicately colorful new spring face powders? There are many new tones on the market that make the game of getting just the right shade an exciting one.

Perhaps you have seen the crowds of interested women standing in department stores watching experts at the powder counters mixing powders for customers. You may even have been a customer and by now have had your powder mixed to match yourself and nobody else.

If you know you have the right powder for daytime, so much the better. But why not be a little bit adventurous and try out some pastel colored evening tones that you haven't used before?

There are soft, pale blues, greens, mauve, lavender, an ochre that looks positively salmon colored, dead white and fully a half dozen shades of rachelite. You should let an expert help you select your evening face colors. You may need a mixture of two colors to give you that irresistible allure under the electric lights.

But, generally speaking, here are some rules to go by when casting your eye in the direction of odd cheeky shades for spring evenings: Orange powder is good for pale people with sunburnt hair.

Mauve gives a seductive pallor, especially good on too ruddy an English complexion.

Lavender is bewitching and makes one fair in a glamorous way and every complexion can wear it, except the olive brunet.

Green can make a brunet glamorous, worn with new spring colors that have vividness.

Blue gives a blonde something that makes you think she has everything, but it is good worn only in the evening, with delicate colors, especially that jet-blue that is new and stunning or dead white and a glittering white gown at that.

WE WOMEN

By Virginia Vane

Dear Miss Vane: I have been going with a man for several months and in that time he has appeared to care for me a great deal. I have always had happy times together but imagine my astonishment when the other night he came to call on me and told me seriously that he had come to the conclusion that I cared too much for him. He was very rude in his manner and actually scolded me although I had done nothing to warrant such treatment. When he left he said goodnight affectionately and apparently feels that he is going to go on seeing me. What shall I do? PUZZLED.

Well, he's made his intentions peculiarly good on too ruddy an English complexion.

Lavender is bewitching and makes one fair in a glamorous way and every complexion can wear it, except the olive brunet.

Green can make a brunet glamorous, worn with new spring colors that have vividness.

Blue gives a blonde something that makes you think she has everything, but it is good worn only in the evening, with delicate colors, especially that jet-blue that is new and stunning or dead white and a glittering white gown at that.

pretty clear, and your supposed to read between the lines, and decide whether or not you like his proposition.

He has stated quite plainly, if you come to figure it out, that he doesn't want you to care for him too much or take him too seriously. The fact that you've been appearing to care, has worried him. He doesn't want to tie himself down. He doesn't want you to get notions into your head about how deeply he feels for you.

On the other hand, he's perfectly willing to run around with you on the same basis of a pseudo-friendship which has existed during these last few months. If you promise not to be silly and show signs of being in love, all will be well.

Do you like the idea or not? It's up to you. If you love the man you won't be satisfied with this arrangement. Your pride will have been too deeply hurt and you won't want to see him again. On the other hand, if you're married in secret, his friendship for what it is, you can go on quite comfortably with him as a steady beau. There are the facts clear before you and you can make up your mind about them. But don't expect a lot of romance from that businesslike young fellow.

ANXIOUSLY WAITING: Much depends on the boy's circumstances. If he is coming to see you evening after evening, without once suggesting that he entertain you in some way—and at the same time he takes other girls to places of amusement, and shows them a courtesy which he deems unnecessary in your case—then you have a grievance.

But if he's just a poor fellow, who can't possibly afford a treat of any sort, you mustn't blame him for the lack of invitations. Boys of his age aren't always supplied with pocket money, you know, and it may be beyond him to do the social thing properly. So be a good sport and welcome him, so long as he is treating you as well as he treats the other girls.

WAITING: Afraid you're just refusing to notice all the danger signals. You admit that the boy in question once seemed to care for you, that he obviously called it off, and that now he hardly bothers to speak to you. Also you mention another fair charmer in whom he is obviously interested.

What more do you need to tell you that that little romance is definitely on the wane—and that the sooner you stop trying to win him back, the happier you'll be? You can't force him to love you again and you are probably brooding endlessly over an apparently hopeless affair.

Give up going to the places where you know you'll see him. That will help immeasurably in overcoming your obsession. Have the courage to break right away from the association which remind you of him and in a few months, you won't be able to remember what you were so unhappy about.

G. S.: Thanks for your helpful letter. I regard that it is too long to reprint but your kindness is deeply appreciated. Have forwarded the poem to OLD-FASHIONED MOTHER, hoping it will help her.

SINGLE BANDIT APPEARS AGAIN AT GAS STATION

Obtains $25 in Holdup at A. W. Borenz Station in Menasha

Menasha—A lone bandit, apparently the same man who has robbed a number of filling stations in Neenah and Menasha during the past few weeks obtained about $25 in a holdup of the A. W. Borenz filling station at the corner of Racine and Third-sts about 10:40 Monday evening.

R. W. Schlegel, attendant, was alone at the station when the robber entered. Ordering Schlegel at the point of a gun to go into an adjoining room, the man took $24.34, leaving a small amount of change in the register. He failed to discover about $30, which had been hidden.

The man was dressed in overalls and jacket and wore a grey cap, according to the description given Menasha police. The description tallies with those given by victims of previous holdups in the twin cities. Schlegel was unable to tell whether the man escaped on foot or in a car, and Officer Alex Slomski, who stopped at the station only a few moments after the marauder left, found no trace of the holdup man.

History Shows April Has Been Month Of Tragedies

BY BERTY MILLER

A great tragedy will befall some part of the world during the next 30 days, if history repeats itself.

For April, month of showers, warming sunshine and the joyous Easter time, also is the month of grim disasters.

An amazingly large number of history's most tragic events—wars, plagues, shipwrecks, mine disasters, fires, floods, bombings, revolutions and riots—have darkened the horizon in this month.

The sinking of the Titanic with loss of 1517 lives, the $500,000,000 San Francisco fire, the London plague which claimed nearly 70,000 victims, the Ohio prison holocaust, the assassination of President Lincoln—all these took place in April.

And April has played a curious part in the United States' history for nearly every major war in which this country has become involved began in this month.

Among the great tragedies occurring in April were:

THE MISSISSIPPI FLOOD—Early in April, 1927, floods in the Mississippi and its lower branches inundated 20,000 square miles in Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, Tennessee and Kentucky, rendering 600,000 temporarily homeless and doing property damage of $270,000,000.

TITANIC DISASTER—The steamship Titanic, then the largest ship afloat and believed to be non-sinkable, crashed into a submerged iceberg in the North Atlantic and sank with loss of 1517 lives, on April 15, 1912.

LINCOLN ASSASSINATED—While attending the Ford theater in Washington on April 14, 1865, President Lincoln was fatally shot by John Wilkes Booth, plunging a nation, happy over the close of the Civil War, into deep mourning.

WAR WITH GERMANY—The United States threw her resources into the war against Germany on April 6, 1917.

SAN FRANCISCO DESTROYED—Hundreds of lives were lost and $500,000,000 in property damage suffered when the great fire destroyed the city of San Francisco on April 18, 1906.

SOFIA BOMBING—Two hundred persons were killed at Sofia in an explosion of bombs at the funeral of General Georgioff on April 16, 1925.

REVOLUTIONARY WAR—The battle of Lexington, starting the Revolutionary War, took place on April 19, 1775, the day following Paul Revere's famous ride.

BRITISH PLAGUE—The great bubonic plague started its sweep through London on April 26, 1665, bringing death to 68,596 persons, mostly among the poorer classes.

OHIO PRISON DISASTER—Fire and rioting in overcrowded Ohio State penitentiary at Columbus broke out on Easter Monday, April 21, 1920, with 318 convicts losing their lives.

SPANISH-AMERICAN WAR—President McKinley called the nation to arms in war against Spain on April 21, 1898.

NAPOLEON EXILED—Napoleon Bonaparte, having abdicated the French throne on April 10, 1814, was exiled to Elba on April 28 of the same month.

SULTANA SINKING—The steamship Sultana went down in the Mississippi river on April 27, 1856, after an explosion, with loss of 1850 lives of federal soldiers.

CANADIAN FIRES—The city of Hull, Canada, was almost destroyed on April 6, 1900, when 3000 buildings burned and on April 10, 1904, the city of Toronto was swept by a fire which did $8,000,000 damage.

CIVIL WAR—The first shot that began the long struggle between the

BIRDS EXPERIENCE TROUBLE FINDING FOOD UNDER SNOW

BY W. F. WINSEY

The robins and grackles are here and they are all hungry, especially so on account of the heavy coating of snow over their feeding grounds. Anyone may do these birds a life-saving favor by feeding them in the back yards where their meals will not be brought to a fatal ending by the house cat.

As the sun shows very brightly, the weather was warm, and farmers were plowing for spring sowing before the snow storm. It is easy to understand why the highway commissions in this section of the state removed the snow fences from the highways a few weeks ago and disconnected the snow plows from the trucks. But it is more difficult to understand why the song birds return to their summer homes so early each spring, unless they know that the people to whom they sing will feed them during cold stormy weather and protect them from the danger of cats.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO EMBEZZLING CHARGE

Pierre, S. D.—(P)—Fred R. Smith, former state superintendent of banks, entered a plea of not guilty to embezzlement charges in county court here Monday. His preliminary hearing was set for April 9.

Arrested at Platte Saturday on a warrant issued on complaint of Attorney General M. Q. Sharpe, Smith came here with State Deputy Sheriff Carl Hammer and was released on $10,000 bonds for his appearance today. He is accused of violating his trust in handling more than a million dollars of closed bank funds.

Iowa farmers on January 1, 1931, owned a half million more hogs than they did a year before, according to Leslie M. Carl, agriculture statistician.

"THE CHRIST SON OF THE LIVING GOD," general theme for Lenten Noon Meetings. Warner Bros. Theatre, 12 to 12:35. Wed., Thur. and Fri.

CRUELTY IS PLEA IN MOST BADGER DIVORCES

Madison —(P)—Cruelty was the basis for 1,740 of the 2,508 divorces granted in Wisconsin in 1930, the state board of health reported today.

Desertion and non-support were the two other principal grounds on which the divorces were granted. Desertion was given as the cause in 418 cases while non-support brought about 192 divorces.

Almost four times as many divorces were granted to wives as to husbands, marking an increase in this proportion as compared with the 1929 statistics, the board said. The proportion of divorces granted to the wife was greater where there were children than in cases where there were no children.

There were 3,148 children affected by the severance of marital ties in Wisconsin in 1930, the board said. There were 1,405 cases in which the plaintiff or defendant had children. Uniform marriage and divorce laws and the determination of the true causes for divorce action are means of a betterment of the divorce situation which is becoming more serious each year, L. W. Hutchcroft, chief statistician, said.

Conferences In Chicago Start Bally-hoo For Heavyweight Bout

BOXING BOARD WON'T APPROVE MAX VS. MICKEY

Hints German Champion Will Have to Fight Stripling or No One

CHICAGO (P)—The ballyhoo for the proposed world heavyweight championship match between Max Schmeling of Germany, the champion, and William Stripling of Georgia, was warming up today.

A series of conferences was opened last night, in which sat William E. Carey, president of Madison Square Garden, New York; Joe Jacobs, manager of Schmeling; Sheldon Clark, wealthy Chicago sportsman, and George Getz, a member of the Illinois state athletic commission, and co-promoter with the late Tex Rickard of the Dempsey-Tunney bout in Soldier Field in 1927.

Damon Runyon, matchmaker for the New York milk fund, which holds first rights on the match, was unable to come to Chicago for the conference.

Nothing definite came of the long session, except that any announcement would come from Clark. Both Clark and Carey were extremely tentative about what went on, and Jacobs, exercising the verbal prerogatives of a manager, was the only conferee to do much talking.

From Jacobs' conversation and the fact that the revival of discussion of the bout was held in Chicago, it was indicated that Soldier Field will be the site of the battle, and the date probably June 19.

While things that will happen were not freely discussed, something that is not likely to occur—a championship fight involving Schmeling and Mickey Walker, middleweight titleholder—was mentioned by Jacobs.

He said he had read about such a bout in the papers, but as far as he is concerned, there is nothing to it. He said he had talked with Major General John V. Clinch, chairman of the Illinois State Athletic commission, and president of the National Boxing association, and that as long as the N. B. A. considered Stripling the foremost contender, he would not consider a bout with Walker.

May Set 15 Round Limit

Indication that the Illinois legislature will pass a bill legalizing fifteen round championship bouts had not only strengthened Chicago's bid for the title fight, but caused Jacobs to come up with the first prediction of the outcome. He said Schmeling would prefer a 15-round fight, but said "Max will belt Stripling out in a couple of rounds anyway."

Stripling in Crash

Houston, Tex., (P)—William L. (Young) Stripling, signed to meet Max Schmeling for the world's heavyweight championship, will leave tonight for his home in Macon, Ga., after he completes arrangements for repair of his airplane, damaged in a forced landing in a rain storm yesterday.

Stripling and four other members of his party escaped injury in the landing which smashed wings of the plane.

They were flying from Matamoros, Mexico, where Stripling boxed Champ Clark of San Antonio, Tex., Sunday.

Sports Question Box

Question—Is blocking with the elbow considered good defensive form?

Answer—A matter of opinion. It is considered better to ward off blows with the glove and so be in position to strike out without drawing the first back.

Question—Batter hit a high fly down the first base line. Both pitcher and first baseman waited for the other to catch it and neither did. The ball fell on fair territory between first base and home. It bounded foul before it passed first base. I ruled it a fair ball and suspect I made a bad mistake.

Answer—You did. The ball was foul.

Question—The batsman batted a small roller which turned into fair territory. He started for first base and ran into the ball which was still in fair ground. I ruled that he was out for being hit by a batted ball. Was I right in doing so?

Answer—You were. The batter is always out when he is hit by a ball which he batted himself and which remains in fair territory.

BRUSHING UP SPORTS ... By Laufer

FIELDER JONES, as manager of the White Sox, was responsible for the rule that when a pitcher is substituted he has to pitch until the batsman either is retired or reaches first base. In an important game at Chicago in 1906, when the Sox were winning the pennant, Jones sent his star pitcher, Ed Walsh, to the club house in the eighth inning, telling him he was to pitch the following day. It then seemed Chicago had the game in hand. But the visitors rallied and Jones finally sent for Walsh. Ed was under the showers. Rules then permitted a manager to change pitchers at his discretion and let each pitcher throw five warm-up balls. Jones made five pitching substitutions while Walsh was hurriedly dressing. Each pitcher threw his five balls and used all the time possible. Walsh appeared as the sixth pitcher of the inning, and struck out the batter to end the rally. That parade of pitchers caused the rule to be changed to its present form.

FIVE of the teams in the Knights of Columbus bowling league turned in three games victories last night on Elk alleys. Among them was the league leading Clarke team which ran up a 2830 total and took three games from the St. Lawrence five.

W. Timmers had a 155 for the St. Lawrence team's high score and with Felt getting 191 and Tillman a like total for the Clarke and Brown 195, the leaders won easily. In the second game they blasted out 1023 pieces of maple and again won. The scores were Felt 220, Tillman 202, Brown 204, Otto 183 and Strutz 214.

The game broke the spirit of the St. Lawrence team and it dropped the third contest with low scores 103 and 117.

St. Francis five had no trouble coping the first of three games from the Georgetown five but was forced to battle for wins in the second and third games. The second was won by six pins thanks to a 189 by J. Dohr, and the third game by two pins mainly because of low scores by the Georgetown quint.

Led by M. Bauer with 159, 140, 184-483, St. Norbert five took three games from Trinity. The best effort for the losers was a 138, 159, 154-442 turned in by J. Heinzl.

Notre Dame bowlers were victorious in three games against the Holy Cross team, the victories being all the more impressive because a 199 to 35 pin handicap had to be overcome. Dr. Frawley's 155 was high game for the winners in the first game. Mahoney's 215, in the second and Frawley's 179 in the third.

REPORT CARNERA AND SHARKEY WILL FIGHT

Expect Big Italian Will Be Reinstated by New York Commission

New York (P)—A rather general whisper has it that Jimmy Johnston is all set to promote a heavyweight duel between Primo Carnera and Jack Sharkey at Ebbets Field in Brooklyn this June and that formal announcement awaits only the reinstatement of Primo to good standing in this state.

On the fact of it, the match looks like a "natural" but none of the parties concerned can be induced to admit that any negotiations have been started.

Carnera has been on the barred list of the New York State Athletic commission for a year—ever since his match with Leon Chavaler out on the west coast. The flaccid father may decide at their meeting today that Primo has been punished enough.

Carnera's reinstatement, those supposed to be in the know say, depends upon his agreeing to box for Johnston and with charity as the chief beneficiary. Sharkey, according to Johnston, already has agreed verbally to three matches this summer.

DELTA, WOLVERINES SEEK CHAMPIONSHIP

Delta Hi-Y and Wolverines basketball teams in the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. will clash for the elimination tournament championship tonight on the "Y" court. Each team has been defeated once during the tourney, the Wolves succumbing to the Deltas two weeks ago. The winner of tonight's game will meet the Sam Ornstein Specials in a game to decide the championship of the department. The Specials copped the league championship.

AMERICANS SHOULD LIKE PLAYING RUGBY, GEORGE PFANN SAYS

New York (P)—It's an old English custom, the game of Rugby, but George Pfann, all-America quarterback at Cornell in 1922 and Rugby player at Oxford for two years, thinks it is bound to catch on in this country.

Pfann, now a lawyer and right wing on the scrum of the New York club, says Rugby is an ideal intra-mural, inter-fraternity sport and he believes that some day it will be as widely played as, say, basketball.

He doesn't think it will take the place of football "as long as the competitive spirit burns as high as it does in America."

BASEBALL LEADERS AT BARNARD RITES

Will Move to Spencer, Ind., Tomorrow for Ban Johnson Funeral

Cleveland (P)—More than 40 leaders of baseball gathered today for the funeral of Ed J. S. Barnard, president of the American league who died Friday. From here the sorrowers will go on to Spencer, Ind., for the last rites tomorrow for Byron Bancroft Johnson, who preceded Barnard in office and outlived him but 16 hours.

The services for Barnard, who was president of the Cleveland Indians before his election to the league presidency, were in charge of the Knights Templar. Honorary pallbearers were Judge Keneas M. Landis; Harry Grabner, secretary of the Chicago White Sox; John A. Heydler, president of the National league; Frank J. Navin, president of the Detroit Tigers; Col. Jacob Ruppert, president of the New York Yankees; Phil Ball, president of the St. Louis Browns; Robert J. Quinn, president of the Boston Red Sox; Connie Mack, manager of the Philadelphia Athletics; Clark Griffith, president of the Washington Senators; and William Evans, Walter McNichols and Alva Bradley, general manager, secretary and president respectively of the Cleveland Indians.

Rev. Miles H. Krumbine, pastor of Plymouth church in Shaker Heights and a close friend of Barnard, participated in the rites.

Training Camp Notes

BIRMINGHAM, ALA. (P)—The New York Yankees have left poor, left-handed baseball fields behind them, and "Marce Joe" McCarthy, for one, is glad of it. "The diamond at St. Petersburg had tall grass encroaching on the infield," said Joe. "I could have played second base there myself. Now we have arrived at a park which approximates that of a major league city."

Macon, Ga. (P)—Time was, they do say, when Freddy Heilmann, the big left handed pitcher, found training rules a trifle irksome; but Wilbert Robinson of the Brooklyn Robins is counting on him to turn in a lot of winning games this year.

"I am not overlooking Heilmann," said Bobby. "If he does not observe our training rules, he will go no matter how much we need him. But Heilmann realizes what he must do and will do it. There is no finer fellow on the squad and when he is in shape he is a good man."

Fort Worth, Texas (P)—Doc Knowles, trainer for the New York Giants, now comes to the front with confirmation of a previous suspicion that the Giants have been afflicted with fewer injuries this year than ever before.

"Why, I've used less tape and liniment than in any year I've been with the Giants," said Knowles, and had his fingers crossed while he said it.

Athens, Ga. (P)—In the words of Mickey Cochrane, sparkling catcher for the Philadelphia Athletics, Lew Krausse is "the best young pitcher I ever saw." Krausse, a sorrel-topped youth from Media, Pa., is getting his first taste of big league ball with the champions.

"First," said Cochrane, "the boy has poise. Then he has fair control, a nice fast ball, a good curve and a 'sewer' ball. He's a real find."

Both believe Ray Thomas and Clint Brown will come through, says Ferrell: "I may not win as many games as I did last year, but fellows like Hudlin, Brown and Harder are going to win a lot more."

Los Angeles (P)—A couple of Pittsburgh Pirates went to Manager Jewel Ems today and said they guessed they'd fly over to San Francisco after tomorrow's game. Ems said he guessed they wouldn't.

And while on the subject of aviation, the Pirate skipper remarked that many of his men were "up in the air" while the Chicago Cubs were drubbing them yesterday. He added there will be no plane rides during the National league season.

Biloxi, Miss. (P)—"Sad Sam" Jones has found a pitching assignment much to his liking.

Looking over posters advertising the Washington Senators game with the House of David team, and spotting the whiskers, he said:

"Those fellows look to be just about my age, and I'd like to pitch against them."

Motherly Notes of a Baseball Traveler

M R. Robert Moses Grove is not one to take his own dignity lightly. For that reason Mr. Mack is constantly watching him, guarding him against embarrassment. Of course, you might not think Mr. Mack was watching him, for Mr. Mack can pose for a picture with three members of the Bear Gulch Commercial Club and at the same time make a mental note that a right-field rookie is holding his mouth wrong when going after a fly hit to his left.

One day at Fort Myers Mr. Mack was sitting on the bench holding an animated conversation with three ladies from the Wolf Hollow Library Aid Association and telling them how much he would like to have them call on him if they ever should visit Philadelphia.

BADGERS COMPETE IN GOPHER RELAYS

Half Dozen or More Individual Performers Also Show Saturday

Madison (P)—Time trials to select the Badger track squad that will make its final indoor appearance of the 1931 season at Minneapolis Saturday night in the annual Minnesota relays were scheduled for today by Coach Tom Jones.

A relay team and a half dozen individual performers will be selected by Coach Jones when he puts members of the squad through their paces at the university's field house.

Although Capt. Bill Henke was still out of competition because of a strained leg muscle, Sammy Behr and Greg Kabat, shotputters; Ted Shaw, high jumper; Mac Thompson, Miller, and Ralph Lovshin, all-around athletes, were almost certain making the trip.

A half-mile relay combination will probably be chosen from the out standing candidates, Gafke, Davison, Mitchell, Bassett, McGuire, Jones, Lee and Rice. A field of picked runners will also be selected to compete against the Gopher ace, John Currell, in Minnesota's special one and one-half mile race.

LAMPE, SUNDT WILL COACH U. GRIDDERS

Bo Cuisiner Gets Latter's Job as Freshman Football Mentor

Madison (P)—Elmer A. Lampe, former University of Chicago football star, today was announced as the choice of the Wisconsin University athletic council to succeed Jack Ryan as end coach for the 1931 football season.

Graduated from Chicago in 1929 after three years of play on the maroon varsity, Lampe for the past two years has been athletic director of football and track at Evanston township high school. His teams won the Suburban high school championship in 1929 and 1930.

The athletic council at last night's meeting also authorized the transfer of Guy Sundt from his present position as freshman coach to assistant varsity coach. Bo Cuisiner, former Wisconsin star, was chosen to coach the Freshman squad.

TOURNAMENT RECEIPTS HIGHER THAN IN 1930

Madison (P)—Gross receipts of the Wisconsin state high school championship basketball tournament were $6,500, representing a small increase over last year's gate, figures compiled by the management revealed today.

The bilizard of Friday night cut heavily into the receipts. Income for the first two days amount $400 above the corresponding days a year ago.

California, Pa. (P)—A fist fight ended a girls' basketball game at California state teachers college here last night.

The score board showed the California girls and the Golden State Vanities, a Pittsburgh girls' team, tied at 19 near the end of the half. Suddenly Miss Leona Cantwell of the Vanities and Miss Sarah Robertson of California, clinched. There was a wild exchange with some hair pulling, and then other members of the two teams went into battle. The melee ended with the Vanities leaving the floor.

Milwaukee (P)—Walter (Whitey) Badrunas of Waukegan, Ill., and Albert Shipley of Kenosha, will act as co-captains of the 1931-32 Marquette University basketball team, and Harold McFadyen of Calgary, Alberta, Canada, will lead the hockey team.

Lettermen of the basketball and hockey teams elected their leaders at the annual banquet tendered by Marquette athletic officials here last night.

Badrunas, center and high scorer on this year's team, and Shipley, a guard, succeeded Joe King of Chicago as co-captains of the basketball team. The new hockey captain is a brother of Don McFadyen, star of the 1929-30 team, now playing professional hockey with the Chicago Shamrocks.

Capt. William Schultz, Neenah, and Manager Donald Calvert, Fond du Lac, were among 11 recipients of letters in hockey. Nine were awarded numerals in hockey, among them C. H. Zinnen, Racine.

STANLEY POREDA AWARDED DECISION OVER JOHN RSKO

Takes Early Lead Which
Cleveland Rubber Man
Fails to Overcome

NEW YORK—(P)—A colorful new figure had crowded into the ranks of the heavyweights today—Stanley Poreda, a straight-shooting youngster from Jersey City.

Meeting his first major opponent after a long string of victories over lesser lights of the division, the big, black-haired Pole established himself as a comer last night by pounding out a clean-cut win over old Johnny Rsko, the Cleveland rubber man in Madison Square Garden. Rsko rallied in the closing rounds but could not overcome the long lead piled up by his young opponent in the early stages.

The excitement attending Poreda's surprising victory was too much for one of the 2,000 spectators. Rudy Hasse, 50, who attended the bout as Poreda's guest, died a few minutes after the verdict was announced, supposedly of heart failure.

Although the Associated Press score sheet credited Poreda with six rounds and Rsko with only two, the decision of the three officials was not unanimous. The two judges named Poreda, but Referee Kid McPartland picked the veteran Rsko.

After stopping Rsko's initial rush with a hard right to the chin that set the Cleveland battler back on his heels, Poreda continued to swarm over the Baker boy for the first five rounds. He jarred the veteran repeatedly with a long left and crossed wicked rights to the head and body. Rsko had much difficulty connecting with a looping right, his principal weapon.

When the youngster slowed up in the sixth, Johnny charged him all over the ring, taking plenty of punches but landing a few on his own hook. The result was that he earned a draw in the sixth and tenth and had an edge in the seventh and ninth. There were no knockdowns.

Poreda entered the ring at 193 pounds; Rsko at 194.

State, However, Is Still
5 Per Cent Under Its Quota

(Post-Crescent Washington Bureau)

Washington—Wisconsin has somewhat improved its radio facilities during the last two months, though it is still 5 per cent or 0.41 units under quota.

According to a radio commission announcement, with statistics as of March 3, Wisconsin has had assigned to it 8.25 radio units although 8.66 are due, thus becoming 0.41 units under quota. On Jan. 6, Wisconsin had only 7.75 units and was then 0.91 or 10 per cent under quota.

Wisconsin is one of three states under quota in its radio zone, Zone 4, which as a whole, is the largest over quota zone in the country. The other quota states are Indiana, 20 per cent under and Kansas, 12 per cent under.

Zone 4 is 21.61 units or 27 per cent over quota now as against 18.60 units or 21 per cent over on Jan. 6. The over quota states in Zone 4 number seven and are Illinois, 49 per cent; Missouri, 13 per cent; Minnesota, 19 per cent; Iowa, 78 per cent; Nebraska, 77 per cent; South Dakota, 67 per cent; and North Dakota, 19 per cent.

Each radio zone is entitled to 80 units, with a 1,000-station using unlimited time, equal to one unit. Other stations are evaluated as units according to their power and time allotments.

Zone 1 is 4.89 or 6 per cent under quota; Zone 2, 8.54 units or 11 per cent under; Zone 3, 12.09 units or 15 per cent over; and Zone 5, 13.05 units or 16 per cent over.

MILWAUKEE BUSINESS

Washington—(P)—Milwaukee has a retail business in excess of $347,000,000 annually, the U. S. Department of Commerce announced today on the basis of the last census.

The department said, the Wisconsin metropolis, with a population of 578,249, had 8,717 retail stores with a total annual business of $347,422,233, a yearly pay roll of $45,389,283 and a full time employment of 27,707 men and women.

There are 7,368 single-store independents, 274 units of two-store multiples and 93 units of three-store multiples. The census also showed 332 units of local chains, 282 units of sectional chains, and 231 units of national chains. Sales of the three types of chain organizations and of two units of branch systems total $78,564,409, or 23 per cent of the total retail business. Sales of the single-store independents amounted to $222,993,452, or 64 per cent of the total.

The food group is in the lead, according to the report, with the automotive group second and the general merchandise group third in order of sales.

Madison—(P)—The first council meeting of the Wisconsin Federation of Women's clubs will be held in LaCrosse next October, according to an announcement here today by Mrs. Volney Barnes.

The federation voted to hold its conventions biennially because of the difficulty in finding suitable quarters for a delegate body of 600 to 800. In lieu of the annual meeting the federation decided to hold a council meeting.

Approximately 400 are expected to attend the council sessions. There are 306 clubs in the federation. The Women's club, the Twentieth Century club and the Thursday club will be hostesses for the 1931 council meeting.

Third Base And Outfield Post Yankee Weak Spots

T. PETERSBURG, FLA.—(CPA)—The New York Yankees are not a mystery team. They are as open as the day, but they will get a different kind of handling this year from that which they received last year. Some of the younger ball players have been tried about as long as they will be and if they do not produce anything of real major league value they will be scattered here and there like the petals of a daisy.

It is New York that is counted upon to step in as a threat against the Athletics and Washington in the American league. The Yanks have been on an occasional overruling of the man in Madison Square Garden. Risko rallied in the closing rounds but could not overcome the long lead piled up by his young opponent in the early stages.

though there is still room for improvement.

Combs and Ruth are fixtures in the outfield and Hoag, the California outfielder, is being given a chance to show what he can do but he is neither a Combs or a Ruth. Sometimes he seems to have been plucked a year or so too early. The Yankees need a clouter in left field, a huge fellow like Bob Meusel. Plenty of fault was found with Meusel, much of which he brought upon himself, but he helped to win championships for the Yankees.

If Dusty Cooke would learn how to use that big body and strength of his he would be an ideal outfielder for this team. The Yankees have a clean up man in Ruth and another in Gehrig and they had one in Meusel. That was why they had murderers' row, as it was called. They haven't one now and they need it badly if they are to do out the Athletics and Washington. To say nothing of Cleveland and Chicago in the west, both of which are set to beat out New York. The latter two are counting upon the lack of a third baseman and an outfielder to help them do it. That is nearly all they talk about. There is more determination to lick the east this year than there has been in some time and New York and Boston are to get first call.

BIRDS WRECK PLANE
Sydney—An Australian pilot, flying high in the air, met a flock of birds near Cloncurry, in Queensland, and he came off second best in the ensuing battle. The birds, cockatoos, were so numerous that they broke the windows of the plane, tore the fuselage, and cracked the propeller. The pilot had difficulty in landing without cracking up.

BILL WOULD PROVIDE PLANE SUPERVISION

Commission Would Have Power to Condemn Planes
Considered Unsafe

Madison—(P)—Through the creation of a commissioner of aeronautics who would be empowered to condemn aircraft which is not airworthy, the senate judiciary committee hopes to lower the airplane accident toll in Wisconsin.

A bill has been introduced by the appointment of a commissioner by the governor and the creation of a commissioner of aeronautics who shall be a federally licensed pilot with at least six years experience. His term would be six years.

In addition to the commissioner, there would be an advisory board consisting of five appointees of the governor. Each would hold a transport pilot's license. The commissioner would be given broad powers. He would alter or repeal regulations governing the administration of laws relating to aircraft or pilots and regulations concerning airports and landing fields.

"Aircraft identified by the U. S. department of commerce must be registered with and licensed by the commissioner by the owner," the bill says in part. "No identified aircraft shall be flown until the same has been inspected by the commissioner or an inspector and proven airworthy."

Aircraft which has been found airworthy would carry a state license number on both sides of the fuselage ahead of the horizontal stabilizer and a change of ownership in the craft would necessitate the same change in records as is now required for motor vehicles. All pilots, whether a resident of the state or not, would be required to report accidents in Wisconsin within 24 hours, under the terms of the bill.

BROUGHTON TO TAKE CHARGE OF BURIAL

Madison—(P)—Charles E. Broughton, Sheboygan newspaper publisher, was authorized today by the state conservation commission to take charge of the burial ceremonies of Chief Simon Kahquados in Peninsula State Park on May 30.

Chief Kahquados died in poverty at his home in Wabeno last fall. A few years ago he requested the conservation commission for permission to be buried in the park near the grave of his father, Chief Onanigason.

Mr. Broughton, a curator of the State Historical Society and a member of the commission's advisory council, has been connected with Indian problems in Wisconsin for several years.

He has been inspected by the commissioner or an inspector and proven airworthy.

WANT TO POSTPONE RAIL RATE CHANGE

Railroads Ask for More
Time Until New Schedules
Are Printed

(Post-Crescent Washington Bureau)

Washington—The defending railroads have filed a petition with the Interstate Commerce commission to further postpone the effective date of the commission's order revising rates on potatoes, onions, cabbages and turnips shipped to Wisconsin and neighboring states from the Kaw Valley of Kansas.

The railroads base their desire for a postponement from the present effective date, May 9, upon the fact that new rates prescribed in the Western Trunk Line case will not be published until June 15, at least. The vegetable rates, to Wisconsin from Kansas are to be based on percentage proportions of the Western Trunk Line class rates. Potatoes are to take 25.5 per cent of first class rates, and onions, cabbages, and turnips will all take 30 per cent of first class.

Further provisions specify that the rates from Kansas shall not exceed the percentage relationship of rates on potatoes from the Cambridge-Princeton district in Minnesota to Wisconsin and other states. The railroads also complain that the origin groups in the Cambridge-

Princeton district should be changed. They state that the low rates provided on potatoes have made already low revenue of the railroads "grossly inadequate."

A New Foe to Fat

A few years ago, millions of people suffered from excess fat. It was a blight to beauty, health and vim. Lives were shortened, all life's joys reduced.

Now look about. Excess fat is fast disappearing. Not by starvation, not by harmful drugs. Science has discovered that a great cause of excess fat lies in a weakened gland. That gland largely controls nutrition. Its secretion helps turn food into fuel and energy. A scanty secretion lets too much food turn to fat.

Now doctors the world over combat that cause. They feed the lacking factor until weight returns to normal.

That factor is the basis of Marmola prescription tablets. A world-famous medical laboratory prepares them to fit the average case. Thus any obese person may employ this method in its best form at small cost.

Marmola has been used for 24 years—millions of boxes of it. Users have told others, and the use has spread. Now a large part of the slenderness you see is due to this mannerly help.

Now excess fat is folly. It is also folly to starve or overdo, or use methods harmful or absurd. The right method—the method which all doctors now employ—is at your call. The price at your drug store is only $1.

Go get it today if you need it. A book in the box gives the formula and explains the reasons for results. Don't carry this burden longer when people all about you have so easily thrown it off.

TAMMANY HIT FOR CORRUPT CITY REGIME

Speaker at Meeting Says Walker Will Be "Exiled" in 100 Days

New York—(P)—Mayor Walker is given 100 days by John Hayes Holmes to enjoy his return to the city.

"Then he will have to come to his Waterloo and will have started upon his exile," said Mr. Holmes at an overflowed mass meeting at Carnegie hall last night. The Mayor is due from California Saturday.

The meeting was called by the city affairs committee, which has referred charges with Governor Roosevelt against Mayor Walker. Speakers were Mr. Holmes, chairman of the city affairs committee; Norman Thomas, Socialist leader; Heywood Brown, columnist; Dr. Sidney E. Goldstein, associate rabbi of the Free Synagogue, and Paul Blanshard, executive director of the city affairs committee.

More than 3,000 persons cheered indictments of Tammany. Denunciations were mingled with demands for federal, state and city action to relieve unemployment.

"Everything that has happened since the city affairs committee began its agitation against the Walker administration has been a confession of guilt on the part of Tammany," said Mr. Holmes.

"Laughing at its enemies, sneering, scoffing, wise-cracking, the Tammany hall gang now is terrified, and is hoping by confession of guilt and promise of reform to secure pardon."

Now "Cleaning House"

"The administration when charged with corruption, repudiated the charges and defied the legislature to investigate. Now that an investigation has been ordered, Tammany suddenly becomes good and starts cleaning house of its own accord."

Recalling the Tweed, Croker and Murphy days, Mr. Holmes said Tammany stood thrice convicted and he asked a "life sentence."

Mr. Thomas accused Mayor Walker of "running away" from the unemployment crisis and said the city had robbed the poor by inaction far more than the rich by graft.

Heywood Brown said he had picked a job for Walker which he would grace as mayor.

Hands that entail the use of tactical maneuvers are so intricate that perhaps we at times, stress them at the expense of giving examples of hands where not more than one suit should be mentioned.

The above deal is one in which North and South should confine their bidding to the Spade suit alone, while East and West should not bid at all. Furthermore, it is one of those hands that fall into the very normal class where there is no exceptional value even at the Spade suit.

With hands containing less than 4 Quick Tricks together with 7 Probable Tricks, one should not open the bidding with a bid of more than One unless able to make a pre-emptive bid.

Where partner of such original bidder has not a forcing take-out, he should, if holding one or more assist for the original bid, give them all up to that point where a game bid is reached. He should not merely give one assist if holding two or more and hope that the original bidder will be able to go ahead, nor should he shade his assists upward to any appreciable extent in hopes that the original bidder might have excess values and fail to show them.

In turn the original bidder should, if holding more than the 4 Probable Tricks indicated by his original bid, rebid his hand should there seem any prospect of game.

Salient Points of Bidding

Contract: South opens the bidding with One Spade and West passes. North holds assists for the Spade bid—one trick for the Queen of Spades and ½ trick for the long Spade, and, with the rule of double valuation, his two Minor suit Aces should be worth between them four tricks. This does not mean that they will take four tricks, but that in the general scheme of play they should increase the value either of Declarer or Dummy. He accordingly bids Three Spades. East passes and South, having at least one trick in Hearts aside from his four probable Spade tricks, makes the rebid of Four Spades, which concludes the bidding.

Auction: South obtains the declaration for his opening bid of One Spade.

The Play

West opens his fourth best Heart, the Three. East takes the trick with the Ace and returns the Five. If West's original lead was the fourth best, which it must be if it was not a singleton, then East will trump the third round of Hearts. Accordingly South cannot afford to finesse, but immediately plays his King of Hearts and leads three rounds of trumps to exhaust East. He then leads his Jack of Hearts, which West takes with the Queen. Declarer can now discard one of Dummy's Diamonds on his Ten of Hearts and as a whole will lose two Hearts and one Diamond—thus making his four odd and game.

COUNTY QUOTA FOR C. M. T. C. FILLED

But Applications Still Will Be Accepted, Committee Chairman Says

Outagamie-co's quota of applications for Citizens' Military Training camps has been filled, according to Lieut. Raymond P. Dohr, Appleton, chairman of the county committee.

The county's quota is 25 and 23 applications have been received.

Filling of the quota of applications does not mean that more will not be accepted, Lieut. Dohr said recently. Any boy who still wishes to attend one of the camps can file his application and stand a good chance of being called. The state quota has not yet been filled and there is a shortage of applicants in other counties the application from counties where the quota has gone over the top will be accepted.

Boys wishing to go to camp also should file applications early because of the detail which often in-

MARRIED WOMEN TOLD NOT TO APPLY FOR JOB

Madison—(P)—Carrying out the policy laid down by the legislature, the bureau of personnel has asked married women to refrain from applying for the position of secretarial stenographer at Stout Institute. The bureau has sent out the usual notice of an open position in the state service. A footnote reads: "It is hoped that married women who are not dependent upon their own resources will refrain from competing in this examination."

The legislature recently adopted Assemblyman Carlton Mauthe's resolution expressing the legislative policy as against the employment of both husband and wife in the state service. The bureau has gone a step farther, however, in discouraging any married woman, not dependent on her resources, from accepting work in the state service. The examination will be held here April 10.

Majority of Holy Week Services Will Begin Wednesday

With meetings of church groups suspended, all churches of the city will devote the week to preparations for Easter Sunday. Most Holy Week services will begin Wednesday, although some churches are holding services every night this week.

An interdenominational Palm Sunday vesper service was held at the Congregational church Sunday afternoon, and during the week a series of noon day devotional meetings will be conducted at the Appleton theatre and in factories and shops by members of the Appleton Ministerial association. Dr. C. A. Briggs will be the speaker at all the theatre meetings and members of the WEEB broadcasting orchestra will provide music.

Methodist services will open Tuesday evening with the singing of the sacred cantata, "The Seven Last Words of Christ" by Dubois. There will be sermons by the pastor and special anthems by the quartet on Wednesday and Thursday evenings and on Friday evening there will be a Holy Communion service. New members were received at the Sunday morning service.

Stainer's "Crucifixion" will be sung by the Presbyterian choir at that church Friday evening, when Holy Communion will be administered and new members received into the congregation. Wednesday evening the Rev. R. A. Garrison will preach on Christ on the Mountain, and on Thursday evening his subject will be Christ in the Garden. All week day services will begin at 7:30. Mr. Garrison preached on The Eternal King Sunday morning.

Bishop To Speak

The Rt. Rev. Harwood Sturtevant will be the guest speaker at the evening service at All Saints church on Maundy Thursday. Holy Communion will be celebrated at 8 o'clock Thursday morning, and at 7 o'clock Wednesday morning. The three hour service, "The Seven Last Words" will be held from 12 to 3 o'clock Friday afternoon. On Saturday there will be a children's mission at 4 o'clock and Communion at 10 o'clock in the evening. The rule of silence will be observed after this service. Sunday morning Dr. L. D. Utts preached on The Triumphant Exit, or the evening of Palm Sunday, pointing out that the entire day should be devoted to worship, not just the morning. Dr. Utts will conduct the evening service at Christ church, Green Bay, Friday evening.

The only service to be held at the Congregational church during the week will be the sacramental service at 7:30 Friday evening, which will include confirmation of baptisms, adult baptisms and the Lord's Supper.

Catholic services during the week will include adoration of the Holy Eucharist on Thursday, adoration of the Holy Cross and stations of the cross on Friday, and the blessing of the Easter water, fire, and pascal candles on Saturday. At St. Joseph church there will be a high mass at 8 o'clock Thursday morning and adoration of the Blessed Sacrament the rest of the day. Good Friday ceremonies will begin at 8 o'clock, and on Holy Saturday the blessing of the fire, candles and water will begin at 9 o'clock in the morning. END ACTIVITY OF COMMUNITY CHEST FOR YEAR

Last of Money Will Be Paid on Orders to Be Issued This Week

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—At a meeting of the Community chest fund committee at the city hall on Monday evening it was decided to wind up the affairs of the fund. About $150 still is available and it is believed that this money will be spent on orders to be issued Thursday evening. Figures presented by Thomas Fitzgerald, treasurer of the fund, show that $4,325 was collected so far, with a few pledges still to be paid. The sum of $4,283 has been spent by the committee for relief work. Practically all of the clothing donated has been distributed. Another meeting will be held on April 13, at which time a final report will be made by the officers.

Figures prepared by the committee show that 54 orders were issued last week, which totaled $229. Seven requests for aid were refused for various reasons. During the administration of this fund the investigation committee found but three instances where aid was granted without cause. This committee with the aid of employers of labor in the city has checked closely every order given on chest funds. In one instance the investigations of the committee extended as far as Marlinton.

The question of whether the fund was a success and whether or not it will be continued at any time in the future also was gone into at the meeting. Various opinions were presented, some stating their belief that the city should handle all such matters, taking promissory notes from those receiving aid. Others believed that the procedure followed during the past winter was the best plan to follow under the present conditions.

Your Birthday

If April 1st is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 8:30 a. m. to 11 a. m., from 2 p. m. to 3:30 p. m. and from 7:45 p. m. to 9 p. m. The danger hours are from noon to 1:30 p. m. and from 3:30 p. m. to 7 p. m.

The astrological signs of April 1st denote exceptionally favorable conditions for all those interested in finances, and, whilst values may improve, losses, from unexpected causes, may be changed into profits. All social activities, too, will be crowned with success.

A child born on this April 1st will, and will not without reason, have exalted ideas about what it can accomplish. It should not be thwarted in its ambitions, as, if permitted to follow its bent, a very successful and meritorious career can be anticipated for it.

You, if born on April 1st, are gentle and kind, but resolute and firm. Force is not your method, and, by forbearance, diplomacy and tact, you achieve victory, whereas harshness and severity would only spell defeat. Of course, you are persistent, and never let go until you have won out.

Your mannerisms are extremely cordial, and your personality, although not of magnetic force, seeps in and leaves an indelible impression. In your tastes you are artistic, although you rarely lose sight of the practical side of things. You are a lover of sports—though not an active participant—and are well informed on all questions of a social or political character.

Your presence livens up any gathering, and your companionship is always eagerly sought. Deservedly popular, you are modest and never suffer from a swollen head. You get all the enjoyment you can out of life, and earnestly try to give pleasure to others. You are much attracted by the opposite sex, and your style will be temporarily cramped by one or more infatuations. These will run their race, and when you finally settle down to married life, your former experiences will teach you to steer a safe course, thereby ensuring domestic felicity.

CHINESE EGGS HIT INDUSTRY, EGG MEN CLAIM

Importation of Processed Product Brings Prices Down

BY W. F. WINSEY
Poultry raisers complaining about the low price of eggs last winter, are threatening to cut down the size of their flocks. If every one does that the prices will climb this summer and next winter and the farmers that maintain the regular sized farm flock will probably do well. As the price of all farm products are at about the same level, individual or general shifting from one crop to another will probably not work out to advantage. Egg production is as reliable as any other farm project.

John E. Pickett, editor of the Pacific Rural Press, San Francisco, gives a strong reason for the low price of eggs and suggests a remedy in the line of tariff protection for the egg producers of this country. His suggestions follow:

Poultrymen of this country suffered a loss in egg income last year of more than $200,000,000 due to the 27 per cent slump in egg prices.

At a time when the egg price cycle should have tilted upward and agricultural economists were predicting that it would, a flood of cheap processed Chinese eggs came into the country. These Chinese eggs were just about equivalent to the entire surplus of storage eggs in the country and exerted a powerful price-depressing influence. This has probably cost the hen owners of the country more money in the last eighteen months than it cost the government to build the Panama Canal.

Poultrymen are asking the president and the U. S. tariff commission to use their emergency powers to increase the tariff on dried eggs from 18 cents a pound to 27 cents a pound. The tariff commission has called a hearing on this matter at Washington April 16.

The present arguments of poultry groups and the general farm organizations will formally present arguments and briefs asking for a 50 per cent increase on desiccated eggs, but there would seem to be the best chance an agricultural industry has ever had to bring the demand of informal public opinion to the president and the tariff commission.

The direct loss to poultrymen is only a small part of the staggering loss which is involved.

Dr. Walter D. Hays of the University of California has reported that the Legislature of the State of California that the processed eggs imported from China within a period of a year were just about equivalent to 60,000,000 dozen of fresh American eggs, and that 250,000 tons of American feed were displaced when those eggs were imported. This threw out of employment some 400,000 acres of American farms. The railroads lost more than $1,000,000 in freight on the feed alone. Feed mills had less business, manufacturers of incubators and brooders were affected; there was less market for electricity and coal and oil for incubating and brooding fuel; less demand for trucks and local hauling; less financing for banks to do and less insurance to be written; obviously less demand for lumber, cement and other building materials; and an army of people thrown out of employment.

His Prosperity, Claim
At a time when employment was a sharp issue and farm relief a prickly problem the use of cheap processed Chinese eggs by bakers, ice cream makers, candy manufacturers, noodle and mayonnaise manufacturers and the like is counter-clockwise to home progress and prosperity.

Prof. James Dryden, nationally known poultry authority, has said that giving the egg producers of this country the same sort of tariff protection which is enjoyed by many other industries will help farmers more than all the dollars which congress or the Red Cross can distribute by way of farm relief, and tariff relief will be self-respecting, American-style permanent relief.

Agricultural economists recognize the poultry industry as one to be encouraged. It gives year around employment and a weekly cash income. The hen manufactures raw products at the farm into one of nature's finest "protective" foods. If we produced all our own eggs instead of importing Chinese egg products we would take up some of the slack of surpluses in grain growing and other forms of farming.

Since poultry is raised on approximately 30 per cent of the farms of the United States, the demanded tariff increase on dried eggs would bring practical farm relief to most of the farms of the country. The 50 per cent increase which the President and the Tariff Commission can give immediately will not be complete protection but it can aid greatly.

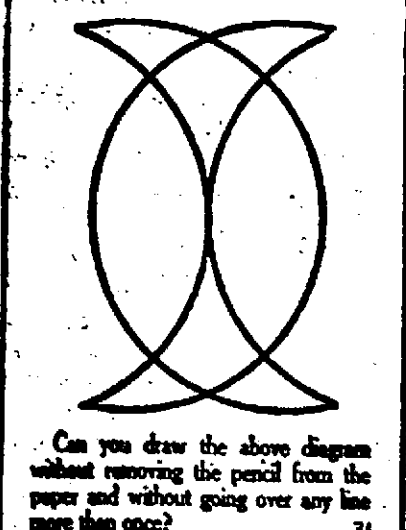

Telegrams, letters and petitions to the President and the Tariff Commission would be a practical means of bringing this matter to attention.

10 prisoners to break out of the county jail, was sentenced to from 14 1/2 to 15 years in the Michigan State prison at Jackson Monday.

Robinson was convicted of breaking and entering Feb. 18. He had been caught robbing a Grosse Pointe Park home.

Before Circuit Judge Homer Ferguson today Robinson reiterated his confession of the Iowa slayings.

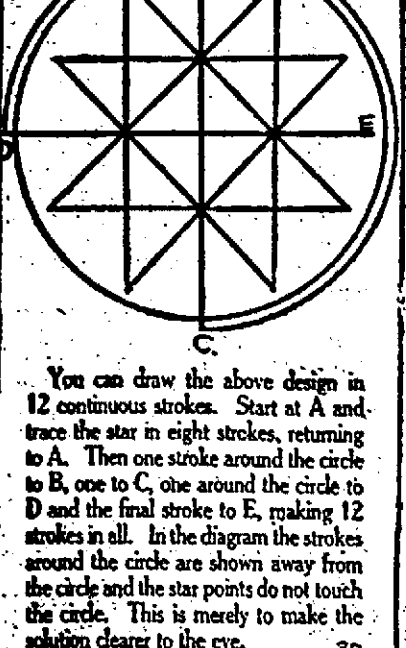

STICKERS

Can you draw the above diagram without removing the pencil from the paper and without going over any line more than once?

(The correct answer will be printed in tomorrow's paper.)

Yesterday's Stickler Solved

You can draw the above design in 12 continuous strokes. Start at A and trace the star in eight strokes, returning to A. Then one stroke around the circle to B, one to C, one around the circle to D and the final stroke to E, making 12 strokes in all. In the diagram the strokes around the circle are shown away from the circle and the star points do not touch the circle. This is merely to make the solution clearer to the eye.

"Modern Homemakers Consider Beauty As Important as Culinary Skill," says Mrs. Neidhamer, who is conducting the Post-Crescent Cooking School and Home Institute.

Gone are the days of housewives who thought that cooking a good meal and keeping the house neat were the only essentials in home making. The modern homemaker gives as much thought to her personal appearance as she does to domestic duties. She has learned that the respect of her family and friends depends to a large extent on her appearance.

ORCHARDISTS TOLD TO WAR ON PESTS

Start Drive Soon, Says Expert With State Department

Madison—Just as the early bird gets the worm, so does the orchardist who begins to make his plans for attacking the enemies of his fruit trees, get the early worm before they can begin their attack, according to E. L. Chambers, state entomologist of the department of agriculture and markets. Now is the time, he advises, to go over the spray equipment and see that all needed parts and accessories are secured to prevent costly delays and possible failures during the busy spraying season.

Mr. Chambers cannot be laid upon seeing whether the spray pump, valve nozzles, and other parts and accessories work properly and can be depended upon to respond when the critical period for such sprays arrives.

The orchard too should be checked over, Mr. Chambers says. If any trees are found infested with either of the scale insects, San Jose scale or oyster shell scale, a dormant spray should be applied prior to the regular spray program. This dormant spray may be lime-sulphur used at the rate of one gallon in seven gallons of water, or one of the miscible oils used as recommended by the manufacturer for dormant spraying.

The time for application can be any time from now on that the temperature can be depended upon to remain a few degrees above freezing for a period of 12 hours after spraying and before the buds begin to show more than a trace of green tips. Good sound fruit can usually be grown only by following a definite spray schedule since it is too late to prevent scab and codling moth injury if action is delayed until they occur.

MILK BY-PRODUCT FINDS GOOD OUTLET

High-grade Cottage Cheese Is Found in Great Demand

Profitable utilization of milk by-products is now more important than usual to the farmer and the dairy industry, and the Bureau of Dairy Industry, U. S. Department of Agriculture, is trying to find profitable uses for skim milk, says O. E. Reed, chief of the bureau. "In one year's volume of dairy by-product, which includes skim milk, buttermilk, and whey—skim milk being by far the most important—there is about 800,000,000 pounds of valuable food protein, a large part of which is not used to the best advantage," says Mr. Reed. "Cottage cheese, which is made from skim milk and which is largely protein, is when properly made and merchandized, one of the most profitable outlets available to the dairy-products plant for utilizing the skim milk. In the past many plants have lacked a standard method for making a uniform, high-grade cottage cheese. The Bureau of Dairy Industry has, by experimental work both in the laboratory and on a commercial scale, demonstrated a method which has consistently produced excellent results.

"This method produces what is called the low-acid rennet-type of cottage cheese. When this type is made properly it has a rich, creamy appearance, a low acidity, good keeping qualities, and distinctive curd particles, and is a product attractive to the consumer.

"The bureau is issuing a mimeographed circular which gives detailed information on how to make this type of cottage cheese. The title of this circular is 'The Manufacture of Low-acid Rennet-type Cottage Cheese. Copies may be obtained free by writing the Bureau of Dairy Industry, Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.'

By Percival Christopher Wren Author of BEAU GESTE BEAU IDEAL MYSTERIOUS WAYE

SYNOPSIS: Dr. Charters tells Dr. MacAdoo and Mr. James that he has abandoned his plan of poisoning Marjorie Lauderdale, might gain her fortune. But James, who thinks Charters has been doublecrossing them, decides to get the girl's fortune for himself by marrying her. Enraged at his intrusion into her room, Marjorie seizes his offer to get her out of the home if she will accept him. Nurse Jones appears and indignantly shows James into the hall. Calming her jealousy, the nurse secretly James' wife—agrees to provide poison so that he can put her out of the way and obtain Mrs. Lauderdale's 10,000 pounds for himself. John Wayne, the mysterious patient, does a little detective work when he hears a night prowler in the corridor near his room.

Semi-conscious and faint, "What the hell?" sighed Mr. James, and drank. And, as the man and girl watched him, Mr. James jerked convulsively, sat up suddenly, glared at the glass and at the girl and at the girl who held it in her hand; clutched his throat; and, with hoarse voice, cried: "You've killed me," and, as a violent contortion twisted his body, died—poisoned by the draught he had himself prepared.

Seizing Marjorie's trembling hands in a firm, steady grip, Wayne soothed and comforted her. "He really died of the blow I..." "Rubbish," interrupted the girl. "I'm all right now...I understand. He came in here and poisoned the water in the glass. I drank a glassful before I went to sleep, and poured out some more.... It was quite all right before I went to sleep."

"Dress at once," Wayne said. "We're going now. Get ready quickly, and bring what you must.... I'll be ready—but don't be long.... And can you take that away?" she added, with a shuddering glance at the bent body.

"Leave everything to me." Closing the door behind him, Wayne, within the minute, had flung Mr. James' body on Mr. James' bed.

Sister Weldon was a light sleeper, and tapping at her door brought her out of bed and into dressing gown and slippers. "Sister, it's time for us to act," Wayne said as she opened the door. "The man James went into Marjorie's room and poured poison into the glass of water on her bedside-table. I caught him coming away, and knocked him down for going into the girl's room at four in the morning."

"Marjorie came out and insisted on trying to bring him round, gave him the water in the glass to drink. "It killed him, I'm going to tell Charters what happened."

"Can't I do anything?" she inquired. "You can, Sister. You can get the girl out of this house and take her to your brother. I'll come with you."

"Certainly, I'll ring up Levitt at the gate-house, and tell him the car is to be on the road in five minutes, and that I shall be taking two patients away.... He'll obey me as he would the Doctor himself. He'll be perfectly content to let you go off in my charge. I'm coming back, as soon as I have seen you both safe in the Vicarage."

A minute later she turned from the telephone. "It's all right unless the Doctor acts first, and...."

"Shall call him until you and Marjorie are out of the house," interrupted Wayne.

"I've got something to say to him. Something that's got to be said. If I don't join you within ten minutes don't wait for me."

Dr. Charters sat up, instantly, wide awake, as his light was switched on, and a harsh voice said: "Get up!"

"You! What's the matter?" "Murder's the matter. Your treacherous reptile James...."

"Murdered?" he cried. "No. Punished for murder. Come with me. His room...."

Charters dashed ahead of Wayne up the stairs and threw open the door of James' bedroom. In a few seconds his professional eye told him the worst, and, as Wayne entered the room, he saw the inscrutable man suddenly burst into tears and heard him, with rending sob, cry aloud:

"Oh, Jimmy! My son! Oh, James, my son!" (Copyright 1930, by Frederick A. Stokes Co.)

Holy Week Meditations

(This is the second of six articles prepared by ministers of Appleton churches for the Holy Week series.)

BY DR. J. A. HOLMES
Pastor, First Methodist Church

Note: (Tradition says that on Tuesday of Holy Week certain Jewish officials approached Jesus hoping to elicit a compromising statement regarding their obligations to Rome. Holding a Roman penny, Jesus pointed to the superscription and image upon it with the oft-quoted statement: "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and unto God the things that are God's.")

The Tax

"Mother, why was I born at Bethlehem instead of at Nazareth?" Imagine a serious-faced youth seated on the stone flagging of the central room of a humble Jewish home, looking up into the lined face of a woman with whitening hair. Evening has fallen. Thru a doorway leading from the room lengthening shadows had not yet obscured a little carpenter shop with its work bench. Saws, hammers, mallets and half-finished oxen-yokes hang on the wall. "My son," she replies, love speaking in her tender tones, "that's a long story. We went to the City of David to be counted so that they—"

"so that they could tax us—the Romans." She paused and the last words spoken almost in a whisper. "Always so much trouble and agitation about the tax. 'Tis said Simon and his followers were planning to rebel at Jericho. You know what happened at Sepphoris." She sighed and slowly shook her head, anxiously clouding her face. "I worry. I fear all this trouble will—but, to go on with the story: 'We left Nazareth early one morning for Bethlehem. Multitudes thronged the road, and the December winds were sweeping the country. Four days we traveled slowly. For we crossed the ford of Kishon, where the stars of the angels' courses against Sisera and the ancient Kishon swelled over its banks, sweeping our enemies away. The second day we passed the frowning bluffs of Gilboa where the 'swords of the mighty were cast away'. At dark that evening we sighted the glimmer of the lamps of Gideon and hear the blast of the trumpets of the three hundred as the hosts of Midian fled. The fourth day we sighted Bethlehem."

"My son, oft had I heard of the City of David and longed to see it. Passing by the very fields where the fair and noble Ruth had gleaned and where David had watched his flocks, we entered the city, and near the wall stopped and filled our water-skins from the well that David loved. The next day we entered the town was crowded—the only place we could find to stay the night was a stable—and, that night," her eyes rested lovingly upon him, "you were born, in Bethlehem of Judea, because your mother had been ordered to go there to be taxed."

Revolutionary Atmosphere

Perhaps Christ had heard this story before. More sinister mutterings from other quarters reached His ears—fitful flames of passion for political independence, later bursting in a general conflagration against Rome. The very atmosphere of His youth—the "missing years" as they are called—were charged with revolution. The adventure of revolution must have appealed to the younger generation, and He doubtless heard many vehement discussions among His companions. No well-organized resistance had been attempted, but everywhere were positive and definite expressions of the peoples' longing for their ancient liberties.

An impenetrable curtain has been drawn across Christ's early manhood. It hides stirring scenes. How interesting to know something of the evolution of His mind, for when He again appears and begins His ministry He has nothing of that hate and restlessness which we definitely know surrounded His early life. He was never a revolutionary, although he was accused of it. By His own example throughout His ministry He showed His countrymen that the way to change the oppression and tyranny of Rome was by gentleness, good will and religious leadership. The ignored His political philosophy, and disaster came upon them.

A New Political Philosophy

The words, "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and unto God the things that are God's," are now so familiar that the utterance scarcely picture the utter astonishment of His auditors. These words probably sealed Christ's death warrant, but gave to civilization something deathless. He raised the civil power to an unusual dignity, gave it a sacredness it had never enjoyed, a breadth of influence never before acknowledged. His statement is the germ of the political philosophy that finds its practical expression in democracy. It sounded the death-knell of absolutism—it began a new civil and religious freedom.

FOR COLDS—ALKALINIZE YOUR SYSTEM

Doctors everywhere are prescribing this new treatment for colds and it is delighting thousands by the quick relief it brings when used consistently.

Begin when you feel a cold coming. Take a tablespoonful of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia in a glass of water, morning, noon and night, the first day. Do the same thing the second day. Then take only at night. Colds reduce the alkalinity of your system. That's what makes you feel achy, feverish, weak, half-sick from them. Phillips' Milk of Magnesia is alkali in harmless, palatable form. It relieves the symptoms of colds by restoring the alkalinity of your system.

For fifty years, this pleasant alkali has been famous as an anti-acid. Doctor prescribe Phillips' Milk of Magnesia; hospitals use it; millions know how it relieves sour-stomach, gas, indigestion and other symptoms of over-acidity. All drug stores recommend it. 25c and 50c bottles, with full directions for its many uses.

He held in His hand just an insignificant penny of the realm to illustrate one of the most profound utterances of all time. It's inscription read: "TI Caesar Divi Aug F Augustus"—"Tiberius Caesar, Son of the Divine Augustus". Similar pennies are still in existence, but they are rare and priced above all pennies. Their value is not in that they are either rare or gold, but one like them was used by Jesus.

Imagine one of these old pennies to be the actual coin held when He made this immortal declaration! Its value would be enormous—collectors and museums the world over, as well as private individuals, would undoubtedly make extravagant bids for it. It would probably be the rarest relic in Christendom. Multitudes would travel miles to see it—why? Simply because Jesus once held it in His hand. What He has touched can never be common. Civilization has thrilled at His potent touch. He has touched art until it is more than pigment, canvass or stone. He has touched literature until the publication of religious books and articles is today second only to fiction. He has touched music until it breathes with the gentle majesty of His matchless personality. He has touched architecture until it towers with His own splendid grandeur.

He is today larger than Caesar's empire or Caesar's coinage. He cannot be embodied in any one philosophy or enthroned in any one land. Creed-making councils or dogmatic boundaries cannot limit Him. He pushes ever before us to the very horizons of the world. He stands on the margin of the farthest advance of civilization. He hovers over every new invention and discovery and stands by the side of every new idea born of man.

Has He touched your life? Does His courage, His spirit of high adventure, His way of life, His sympathy, His brotherliness, His unquenchable optimism, flow in upon your life; strengthening your powers of resistance rather than assuaging you from contact with life; giving you courage, hope, vitality, entirely energizing your life's forces, keeping you strong and unafraid?

Did you ever notice during a rainy spring when the garden soil became packed and water-logged, how many of the plants began to turn yellow and how occasionally some of them died?

Roots of plants have to breathe, or at least they have to get a reasonable amount of air, or they will not grow.

That's where cultivation comes in, because cultivation loosens the surface of the soil and lets the air get to the roots of the plants. For that reason, the surface soil should be stirred as soon as possible after each rain or irrigation. It isn't necessary to go very deep, just loose-en the surface for an inch or two. This often can be done to best advantage by means of a steel rake or with a wheel hoe—push hoe, some people call it. These little wheel hoes are very effective for cultivating between rows of lettuce, radishes, carrots and the like, that are ordinarily planted rather close together.

Room for Cultivator

In the larger garden it pays to plant almost everything in rows 30 to 36 inches apart, or in some cases 42 inches apart, in order to give plenty of room to get through with the cultivator.

Where the land is bedded, cabbage, kale, cauliflower and other crops of that character are often planted in rows only 30 inches apart, but for the larger crops like corn, Lima beans, okra and summer squashes the rows should be somewhat wider, perhaps 42 inches or even 48 inches.

Hoeing is very much like spading. You can make hard work of it if you want to, but on the other hand, if you once learn the knack of handling a hoe, you can hoe the garden without great exertion, at least without any back-breaking labor. If the soil is hoed or raked rather frequently, it will be easier to handle than if neglected until it becomes hard and covered with weeds.

The easiest and best time to kill weeds is just about the time the little weed plants sprout, or just as they are coming through the surface, and while they are still tender. Just a stirring with the rake will kill thousands of weeds when they are first sprouting.

How To Use the Hoe

Keep your hoe sharp and clean so that dirt will not stick to it. Do not chop the soil, but use the hoe with long, uniform, even strokes. Move the hoe rather slowly but regularly, and not spasmodically. If the work of hoeing becomes tiresome, change off and use the rake or wheel hoe for a while, then go back to the regular hoeing.

Once a week should be often enough to cultivate the garden, especially the early spring garden. It depends somewhat, however, on rains and on the character of the soil.

Your Home GARDEN

This is the eighth of a series of articles on home gardening written especially for the Post-Crescent.

BY WILLIAM R. BEATTIE
Bureau of Plant Industry, U. S. Department of Agriculture

Weeds are the bane of the gardener's existence, but come to think of it, if it were not for the weeds, most gardeners would probably let the hoe rust and the soil about their plants would get so hard that nothing would grow.

Some people believe that about the only reason for cultivating a garden is to keep the weeds from growing, but that's not the case at all, because cultivation does more than destroy weeds.

Did you ever notice during a rainy spring when the garden soil became packed and water-logged, how many of the plants began to turn yellow and how occasionally some of them died?

Room for Cultivator

In the larger garden it pays to plant almost everything in rows 30 to 36 inches apart, or in some cases 42 inches apart, in order to give plenty of room to get through with the cultivator.

Where the land is bedded, cabbage, kale, cauliflower and other crops of that character are often planted in rows only 30 inches apart, but for the larger crops like corn, Lima beans, okra and summer squashes the rows should be somewhat wider, perhaps 42 inches or even 48 inches.

Hoeing is very much like spading. You can make hard work of it if you want to, but on the other hand, if you once learn the knack of handling a hoe, you can hoe the garden without great exertion, at least without any back-breaking labor. If the soil is hoed or raked rather frequently, it will be easier to handle than if neglected until it becomes hard and covered with weeds.

The easiest and best time to kill weeds is just about the time the little weed plants sprout, or just as they are coming through the surface, and while they are still tender. Just a stirring with the rake will kill thousands of weeds when they are first sprouting.

How To Use the Hoe

Keep your hoe sharp and clean so that dirt will not stick to it. Do not chop the soil, but use the hoe with long, uniform, even strokes. Move the hoe rather slowly but regularly, and not spasmodically. If the work of hoeing becomes tiresome, change off and use the rake or wheel hoe for a while, then go back to the regular hoeing.

Once a week should be often enough to cultivate the garden, especially the early spring garden. It depends somewhat, however, on rains and on the character of the soil.

acknowledged. His statement is the germ of the political philosophy that finds its practical expression in democracy. It sounded the death-knell of absolutism—it began a new civil and religious freedom.

He held in His hand just an insignificant penny of the realm to illustrate one of the most profound utterances of all time. It's inscription read: "TI Caesar Divi Aug F Augustus"—"Tiberius Caesar, Son of the Divine Augustus". Similar pennies are still in existence, but they are rare and priced above all pennies. Their value is not in that they are either rare or gold, but one like them was used by Jesus.

Imagine one of these old pennies to be the actual coin held when He made this immortal declaration! Its value would be enormous—collectors and museums the world over, as well as private individuals, would undoubtedly make extravagant bids for it. It would probably be the rarest relic in Christendom. Multitudes would travel miles to see it—why? Simply because Jesus once held it in His hand. What He has touched can never be common. Civilization has thrilled at His potent touch. He has touched art until it is more than pigment, canvass or stone. He has touched literature until the publication of religious books and articles is today second only to fiction. He has touched music until it breathes with the gentle majesty of His matchless personality. He has touched architecture until it towers with His own splendid grandeur.

He is today larger than Caesar's empire or Caesar's coinage. He cannot be embodied in any one philosophy or enthroned in any one land. Creed-making councils or dogmatic boundaries cannot limit Him. He pushes ever before us to the very horizons of the world. He stands on the margin of the farthest advance of civilization. He hovers over every new invention and discovery and stands by the side of every new idea born of man.

Has He touched your life? Does His courage, His spirit of high adventure, His way of life, His sympathy, His brotherliness, His unquenchable optimism, flow in upon your life; strengthening your powers of resistance rather than assuaging you from contact with life; giving you courage, hope, vitality, entirely energizing your life's forces, keeping you strong and unafraid?

Did you ever notice during a rainy spring when the garden soil became packed and water-logged, how many of the plants began to turn yellow and how occasionally some of them died?

Roots of plants have to breathe, or at least they have to get a reasonable amount of air, or they will not grow.

That's where cultivation comes in, because cultivation loosens the surface of the soil and lets the air get to the roots of the plants. For that reason, the surface soil should be stirred as soon as possible after each rain or irrigation. It isn't necessary to go very deep, just loose-

en the surface for an inch or two. This often can be done to best advantage by means of a steel rake or with a wheel hoe—push hoe, some people call it. These little wheel hoes are very effective for cultivating between rows of lettuce, radishes, carrots and the like, that are ordinarily planted rather close together.

In the larger garden it pays to plant almost everything in rows 30 to 36 inches apart, or in some cases 42 inches apart, in order to give plenty of room to get through with the cultivator.

Where the land is bedded, cabbage, kale, cauliflower and other crops of that character are often planted in rows only 30 inches apart, but for the larger crops like corn, Lima beans, okra and summer squashes the rows should be somewhat wider, perhaps 42 inches or even 48 inches.

STOCK MARKET MOVES UPWARD; BEARS RETREAT

Upturn Follows Decline of Five Consecutive Sessions—Trade Limited

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER
Associated Press Financial Editor
New York (AP)—Bears were finally content to take profits, and the stock market had its expected rebound today.

The market had been declining for five consecutive sessions, and for seven out of the past eight sessions, so traders felt that the bear market had been overdone, and the rebound was not violent, however, and trading was in limited volume. The bond market also showed a better tone.

Auburn about cancelled Saturday's 13-point drop, and shares rising about 3 to 4 points included Electric Automobile, Eastman, Worthington, McKeesport and Dupont.

The utilities displayed conspicuous gains, with the common stocks rising 2 points or more. Included Consolidated Gas, American Telephone, American and Foreign Power, Electric Power and Light, Public Service of N. J., Westinghouse, Sears and Roebuck. There were further jiggles in the gold mining issues, McIntyre Porcupine and Homestake reaching new top territories.

A broad list of issues advanced a point or more, including U. S.
Steel, American Can, Radio and General Electric. There were a few soft spots, general Asphalt dropped nearly 12 points, then recovered partially. U. S. Industrial Alcohol and Southern Railway sold at the lowest in eight years, and Standard of N. J. at the lowest since 1928.

The uptick in the general list was temporarily checked in the morning by the break in General Asphalt, which was in response to the reversal on appeal of its legal victory over Royal Dutch in London in its suit over Venezuelan royalties. General Asphalt will now appeal to the house of lords.

U. S. Industrial Alcohol was sold in response to another cut in alcohol prices, bringing the tank car price to 12 cents. The anti-trust action against the Sugar Industry also caused selling of American sugar. The oil shares were inclined to ease, as preliminary estimates indicated a further rise in crude oil last week. The agreement to restrict imports is not expected to influence the situation materially for the present.

The market was regarded as constructive President Hoover's statement that a tax increase at the next session of Congress can be avoided if expenditures are curtailed. The prospect of a treasury deficit of some $700,000,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30 is not pleasing to financial circles, and it has been felt that a large bond offering or higher taxes were imminent.

Credit conditions were stationary, with call money at 1 1/2 per cent, both officially and in the outside market.

IRREGULARITY MARKS
TREND OF BOND MART

New York (AP)—The bond market was irregular today. The decline appeared to be checked in some groups.

Railroad obligations were moderately active and the price trend among them was uncertain. Such issues as Great Northern series 4s, 4 1/2s, Chicago and Northwestern 4 1/2s and
New York, Chicago and St. Louis 4 1/2s of 1978 were firm. Recently this group has reflected steady selling pressure which was present in lesser degree today.

Industrial obligations were quiet but prices of them were generally firm. Goodyear 6s of 1937 and Shell Union Oil 6s of 1947 appreciated fractionally. Goodrich 6s and American Machine 6s were easy.
American fluctuations characterized the public utility obligations. American and Foreign Power 6s, American Telephone 6s of 1935 and International Telephone Debenture 6s were active and firm. North American 6s receded slightly.

German 5 1/2s and 7s were leaders in activity in the foreign issues at steady prices. Australian 6s of 1937 made a further sharp recovery on a moderate advance in the London 1930 made one of the largest gains of the whole list but sales of them were few. Polish 7s lost major fractions on a small turnover.

PRICES ON CATTLE MART LOSE GROUND

Large Supplies of Hogs Reported from Chicago—
Cattle Runs Lower

Chicago (AP)—At the first sign of a normal supply the hog market began to give ground, and early selling found prices working 10c lower for choice shipping hogs. 40c which was paid in Monday's limited market, slipped over to the middle market, extended to within a hundred miles of Chicago, made loading conditions difficult over the week end, but enough hogs came from the territory immediately surrounding Chicago, to make up a run of 20,000, exceeding last Tuesday's by 4,000. Slow buying found many loads of lights available at $7.50, and $8.00 was the highest any buyer would go in the opening rounds, although choice 150-lb weights were held at $8.15, with an excellent chance of getting it.

Cattle buyers finally began to realize today that there was a real shortage in supplies, as another small run arrived to make the total for the first two days of this week only 15,000, against 27,500 at the same time last week. Cheap grades of steers were considered the best buy at the outset, and early trading in these was fully steady at $8.00-8.50. Butcher stock felt enough demand to hold steady early. Although the present price levels, based on the gain of Monday, were felt to be artificially high. Calves were in fair demand throughout the list.

The bulge in lamb receipts at Chicago was caused by the arrival of 10,725 direct, out of a total run of 18,000. Saleable supplies were therefore limited, and small packers and shippers had enough orders to put a firm tone on the early market.
Not much trading took place in the early hours as usual, and the price range at $8.50-8.75 for some heavy westerns was an indication of the trend of the market.

TIGHTENING OF WHEAT BOOSTS GRAIN MARKET

Advances in Deliveries of May Wheat Have Bull-
ish Effect

BY JOHN P. BOUGHAN
Associated Press Market Editor
Chicago (AP)—Wheat prices tightened up late today, and lifted other grains. The wheat market was bullishly influenced by May delivery advancing to well above $2.15 the minimum at which commencing tomorrow the Grain Stabilization corporation will start to offer its Chicago holdings of No 2 hard winter wheat. Spread purchases of July wheat against sales of September widened the difference between these two deliveries.

Giving an advantage to wheat bears was a comprehensive unofficial crop summary putting domestic wheat condition at 86.5 per cent, against 77.4 a year ago and a 10-year average of 73.2. The report indicated that only 2.5 per cent of winter wheat acreage seeded last fall would be abandoned, compared with 11 per cent last year and a 10-year average of 11.5. The condition of pastures was reported as considerably better than last year in Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas, but much lower in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota and Iowa.

Relative firmness shown at times by corn was ascribed to a falling off in the volume of receipts. Primary arrivals were 459,000 bushels, against 669,000 a week ago and 745, 000 a year ago. Chicago had only 59 cars compared with 133 at this time last year. Oats chiefly followed corn.

Provision trade was stagnant, and prices almost nominal.

SEE INCREASE IN PRODUCTION OF AUTOMOBILES

Believe Spring Requirements
Will Push Trade to Top Speed

Copyright, 1931, By Cons. Press
Detroit—(CFA)—Spring requirements, which have pushed manufacturing schedules up progressively for the automobile makers, may soon force production out of second gear and into high, is the belief of those who have surveyed present and future conditions of the national market.

The forecasts point to further gains to build up daily volume by the end of March to the status of 400,000 cars monthly, which is regarded as par. That this figure will be reached for the April period is regarded as possible by leading executives, most of whom are not directing factory operations at home, but are campaigning for sales in the field.

The curve toward normal since the first of the year has been reflected in the figures crediting January with a total of 178,399 units and February with growth to 230,384. March, it is estimated, should be at least 50 per cent better than February. Checks made over 10-day periods so far this month have indicated successive gains, which should culminate by the end of this week in impetus which can be maintained through April, with weather favorable for the selling end.

Stocks Are Low
Stocks of both new and used cars are in such a position that the needs of distribution will be felt more quickly by the assembling lines than in normal times. Surveys place new car holdings by dealers at around 300,000 cars, compared with 292,000 as of Feb. 1, and 298,000 as of Jan. 1.

That the outlook is consistent and steady toward further gains is indicated in reports from sales and production divisions. These point to a higher all-around activity for numerous plants than has been experienced since last May, which the 1930 peak was attained.

The plant of the United States Rubber company in Detroit, where tire output has been concentrated, is operating at capacity with three shifts of workers. Officials say this volume should continue for the remainder of the year, basing the belief on a national survey.

The Reo Motor Car company, in line with several other American builders, is solving the Canadian export problem under the new tariff arrangement by starting car, truck and bus output in a plant formerly utilized for Dodge Brothers in Toronto. Nash and Hupp already have contracted for production facilities.

ROOSEVELT FAVORED IN DEMOCRATIC TEST

New York—Governor Roosevelt of New York today appeared to be the presidential choice of a majority of delegates and alternates to the 1928 Democratic national convention who answered queries sent out by Jesse Isidor Straus, New York merchant.

Mr. Straus queried approximately 2,000 men and women; 942 replied; 58 expressed no preference; 478 favored Governor Roosevelt; 125 favored Gov. Alfred E. Smith; 73, Owen D. Young; 39 Gov. Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland; 38 Senator Joe Robinson of Arkansas; 35 former Secretary of War Newton D. Baker of Ohio; 15 former Senator James A. Reed of Missouri; 41 were scattered.

Mr. Straus believed the number of replies "astounding" and said "they clearly indicate the sentiment in the ranks of Democracy at this time."

New York state was not canvassed. Oregon, Wisconsin and Wyoming sent no replies. Two answered from California, one from Virginia. Mr. Straus said the other states were well represented.

As introduced to the senate there are a number of modifications to the measure voted by the house and it will have to go hurriedly back and forth between the two houses in an effort to reconcile the differences before the financial year ends at midnight Tuesday.

Hollywood Laughs At Itself In Stage Comedy

BY JESSIE HENDERSON
Copyright, 1931, By Cons. Press
Hollywood—(CFA)—It seems there's hope for Hollywood. The psychologists say so, anyway, and if they don't know, who does? Long accused of taking its own affairs too seriously, Hollywood has learned to laugh at itself. New York taught it to do so.

Twice it has laughed at itself in the past couple of weeks. And paid money for the privilege. Now it is preparing for a third fit of hysterics. "Once in a Lifetime," the stage caricature of Hollywood which sent New York into a Guffaw, is closing here in a few days after a very successful run. On the first night the theatre was bulging with film celebrities, both actors and producers. They gasped and fell into the aisles, helpless with merriment. On succeeding nights the rest of the film celebrities as well as the Hollywood and Los Angeles public have been trekking to the Mayan theatre for a hearty haw haw at themselves no less than at the other fellow.

Oddly enough, however, the Hollywood audience laughs where the New Yorkers missed and occasionally misses where the New Yorkers laughed.

For example, the line about Producer Gogauer's magnificent bathroom being the show place of Hollywood absolutely rocked 'em in New York. In Hollywood the line is accepted as a matter of course, resulting but the faintest chuckle here and there. Hollywood is so accustomed to architectural show places as part of its landscape that it is a little too near the fact to catch the humor.

But having chartered at itself for once in a lifetime, Hollywood has the giggles again. This fit of mirth is provoked by Howard Hughes, producer of "Hell's Angels," who now has "Queer People" in process of being filmed. "Queer People" is the book which about a year ago threw the film city into convulsions, of delight or rage as the case might be. Under thinly disguised names it exposed most of the celebrities and places of the cinema capital, the authors having prudently retired from Hollywood to New York in order to write it.

More than one person has suggested in a friendly way that on the day when the film of "Queer People" is released here, Mr. Hughes ought to be in Europe.

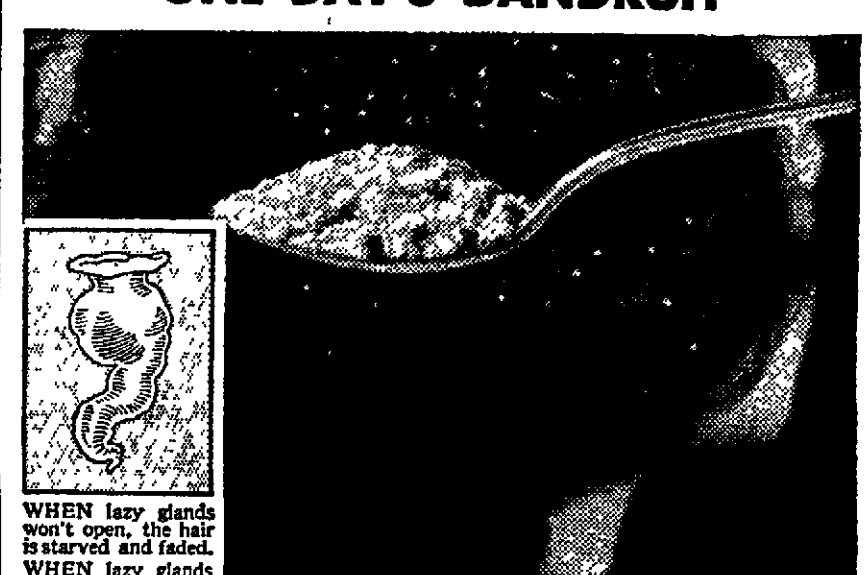

Nevertheless Hollywood is polishing its newly discovered funnybone in gleeful anticipation, and warming up meanwhile on Mack Sennett's "Hollywood Theme Song," which traverses one phase of this town to a fare you well.

Hollywood, which really has some traces of normality after all, has not merely found itself; it has found itself out.

ONE DAY'S DANDRUFF

WHEN lazy glands won't open, the hair is starved and faded. WHEN lazy glands don't close, scalp is fouled by secretions.

LAZY GLANDS

A fastidiously clean body; a scalp that's a scandal. The white shame of American women. Dandruff!

Get rid of dandruff. Anyone can. And no one can ever hide it. In its secondary stage, the infested scalp sheds enough dead scale to fill a tablespoon every twenty-four hours!

And a simple treatment will end this disgusting condition!

Dandruff is caused by lazy glands that won't open and close. They need stimulating. You can do this with your finger-tips, dipped in Danderine, to dissolve the gum that has fouled the pores. The worst caked scalp will soften under this massage. There will not be a speck of dandruff after one application.

Do not neglect lazy glands, or the scalp will granulate and leave the hair dry as straw—and as dead. Even its color is affected when roots are starved, and telltale streaks must be "touched up." If you will only stimulate the glands you won't have to use color restorers.

Glands that stay open are just as bad! Hair and scalp get oily and odorous—soil and smelt-up hats. Danderine is a positive corrective of this evil condition. It's a real medicine for sick scalps. And its fresh fragrance makes it a delightful thing to brush through the hair as the finishing touch to head daintiness.

And if you doubt that Danderine makes hair grow—measure the length after using one thirty-five cent bottle!

ARREST SUSPECT IN MURDER AT WASHBURN

Chicago—(P)—Acting on an anonymous tip, police arrested Louis Christopherson, 25, Sunday night for the murder of Alex Erickson at Washburn, Wis. They said he confessed and agreed to waive extradition.

Erickson was slain in 1925. Sheriff Frostman of Washburn expressed belief the crime was committed during a liquor party and possibly with robbery as a motive. Erickson's body, the skull crushed, was found in his shack.

Christopherson told Detectives Harry Miller and Harry Kins that he killed Erickson, but pleaded he had done it during a fight and in self-defense. Erickson, he said, had drawn a knife to kill him, so he seized a club and battered his assailant to death.

Deputy Sheriff James Morrissey of Washburn was expected here today with a first degree murder warrant for Christopherson.

Kotex stays soft longer

One of the many reasons why you should demand
this sanitary pad

KOTEX is soft, and it stays soft. It does not pack into chafing hardness after use. Millions of women have discovered that fact, and they are particular to specify Kotex.

One of the reasons why Kotex stays soft is the way in which it absorbs—quickly, scientifically over the entire length of the pad. Many other pads absorb in one concentrated area which soon becomes uncomfortable.

Kotex is guaranteed to last longer, stay soft longer, than any other sanitary pad.

You can wear Kotex on either side, with no chance of possible embarrassment, with the same degree of efficiency. It is treated to deodorize. It is shaped to fit. And it is, of course, disposable.

STRIKE DANGER CURBED BY ACTION OF PREMIER

Paris—(P)—As the result of a compromise proposed by Premier Laval, the danger of a general strike of miners in France seemed to have been averted today, even a threatened 24-hour protest walkout having fallen through.

Premier Laval's proposal provided for a wage reduction smaller than proposed by the operators and it was accepted by labor leaders, forestalling a general strike scheduled for today and affecting 300,000 men.
